NO. 87—EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR | VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 24, 1942 | EIGHTEEN PAGES

ELEVEN AXIS SHIPS DESTROYED BY FOUR BRITISH SUBMARINES

Two Undersea Craft, One Troop-Laden Ship and Eight Other Transports Sunk—Attackers Use Gunfire Effectively—Convoy Sailing to Malta Attacked and Damaged

LONDON, March 23 (CP). — British submarines have destroyed two Italian submarines, one troopship and eight other transports within view of Fascists on the shores of Italy and Albania, the Admiralty announced today even while Axis forces were striking with indifferent success at a British convoy elsewhere in the Mediterranean.

The largest individual haul for the four British submarines engaged was credited to Commander J. W. Linton, who sank six large schooners—one of them flying the Nazi flag—and a motorship jammed with troops. Conserving torpedoes, Linton surfaced his submarine and destroyed all seven vessels with gunfire.

He was cited last year for sinking two Italian supply ships with his submarine Pandora.

SINKS SUBMARINE

Another British submarine sank the new 1,461-ton Italian submarine Ammiraglio Millo off Salo Point, Calabria, Southern Italy, under the gaze of persons on shore.

"While His Majesty's submarine was engaged in picking up survivors she was subjected to ineffectual machine-gun fire from land," the Admiralty reported.

The second Italian submarine, of the 778-ton Argonauta class, was torpedoed and sunk in the southern approaches to the Straits of Messina, which separate the Italian mainland from Sicily.

DESTROY THREE ENEMY VESSELS

U.S. Submarines Attack and Probably Sink Combatant Ship Off Japan

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP).—United States submarines, making Japanese waters their hunting ground, have sunk three more of the enemy's merchant ships, attacked and "probably sunk" a combatant ship and damaged two freighters, the navy announced tonight.

The communique ran the score of Japanese ships announced officially as destroyed or damaged by American and Australia action since the start of the war to 183 surface ships. Airplanes and submarines accounted for them. An undetermined number of vessels also were sunk by Netherlanders. Of the American-Australian total of 193, the United States Navy has sunk or damaged 118 vessels.

The navy communique tonight said the combatant ship probably sunk was a destroyer or anti-submarine vessel. The merchant ships sunk were described as a 7,000-ton tanker, a 6,000-ton ship and a 5,000-ton freighter.

LURKING BY SEA LANES

The succinct phrase, "United States submarines operating in Japanese waters," has appeared with increasing frequency in recent weeks in the terse navy announcements. It suggests American undersea boats are lurking hard by the sea lanes from big Japanese ports, stalking and picking off Nipponese ships outward bound with war supplies and troops or inbound for fresh loads.

Besides operating in waters around Japan proper, submarines have found targets in the China Sea, route for Japan's supplies to the South Sea front, and at other points referred to by the navy only as "in Far Eastern waters."

Imposes Curfew On Enemy Aliens

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23 (AP).—A rigidly-enforced curfew from 8 p.m. to 6 a.m. will become effective next Friday for all Japanese-Americans and enemy aliens in critical military zones, the army announced tonight.

Aliens affected include not only those of Military Area No. 1—A coastal strip through Washington, Oregon and California around to southern Arizona—but also those residing in specified inland areas in these states, and in Montana, Idaho, Nevada and Utah.

FOOD PRICES ARE PROBLEM

Payment of Federal Subsidies May Be Necessary to Protect Ceilings

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—The payment of Federal subsidies on a wide range of essential food products was considered likely tonight after the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced action is contemplated to meet "serious difficulties" in protecting the price ceiling on meat and groceries.

Steps to meet the situation were expected within a few days.

Officials said that developments since the application of the general price ceiling last December 1 have been responsible for some of the difficulties which must be overcome.

Broadly, the Prices Board is seeking general simplification of merchandising methods and elimination of frills as a means of cutting down unnecessary expenditures and helping to keep rates below the ceiling. But in the highly competitive grocery trade it has been recognized that even with all possible economies assistance will still be necessary to maintain the ceiling.

LIVESTOCK PRICES

Livestock prices are stronger than they were last year, due to increased demand at home and enlarged cattle exports to the United States, along with the continued demand for bacon to Britain. No ceiling applies on the price paid to the farmer for a steer, but ceiling does apply when the meat reaches the butcher's counter. It has become increasingly difficult to maintain the rates charged in the basic period of September 15

RAIDERS STAB AT COAST OF ENGLAND

Damage Caused by Bombs in One Town—R.A.F. Attacks French Targets

ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND, March 24 (Tuesday) (CP).—The air war over the Channel flared up again last night as German raiders dive-bombed one coastal town for a half-hour despite opposition from British night fighters and heavy ground fire.

The night fighters, their machine guns chattering incessantly in the moonlit skies, finally chased the attackers out to sea.

A stick of bombs caused considerable damage and some casualties in one town on the southeast coast, as one group of dive bombers came in for a swift attack. Many of the bombs landed on a business section.

There was a sharp five-minute attack on another area.

The German raids followed a foray by British fighters on the French coast earlier in the day.

Speed Limit Will Be Forty Miles an Hour In Canada, Says Howe

Minister Explains Need for Gasoline and Rubber Conservation — Motorists Now Using Last Tires Until After War

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe, announcing a forty-mile-an-hour speed limit would become general throughout Canada to conserve gasoline and rubber, told Canadian motorists tonight that "when the tires you have now are worn out, your motoring is over until some considerable time after the war ends."

Mr. Howe, who spoke over a nation network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said that while confiscation of tires on non-essential cars is not an immediate prospect "the Government will not hesitate to commandeer tires from private owners of non-essential vehicles whenever that rubber is needed."

Mr. Howe appealed to Canadian motorists to conserve gasoline and rubber as a patriotic duty and to co-operate in the gasoline rationing plan which comes into effect April 1.

He announced retreading of tires would be restricted to commercial vehicles and buses and for transportation of workers in war plants with no alternative means of transportation.

The conservation of rubber and gasoline was a matter of vital concern, Mr. Howe said.

"If I tell you frankly that we are

Heavy Bag Made Of Axis Aircraft In Short Period

Soviet Air Force Destroys 278 German Planes in Eight Days—No Substantial Changes Reported on Land Front in Russia—Stiffening of German Resistance Is Indicated

MOSCOW, March 23 (AP). — Moderating weather has brought a burst of aerial warfare in which the Soviet Air Force, reinforced by American-made Airacobra fighters, destroyed 278 German planes since March 15, the Russians announced tonight.

Tonight's Soviet communique said twenty-six German aircraft were downed yesterday and three near Moscow today, while a supplement to this announcement listed 249 Nazi aircraft destroyed in the March 15-21 period. Soviet losses from March 15 through yesterday were listed at eighty-eight craft.

Emphasis was shifted to the air fighting as both the morning and night communiques today reported "no substantial changes" in positions on the land front.

Stockholm dispatches reaching London said the Russians had surrounded an ancient walled city believed to be Novogorod, north of Lake Ilmen, and had pushed west-

Ex-President of Argentina Dies

BUENOS AIRES, March 23 (AP).—Marcelo de Alvear, seventy-four, former President of Argentina, died tonight.

He had been ill for some time and his death at his country estate in suburban Don Torcuato occurred less than two weeks after he ended a long, eventful political career by resigning as national chairman of the Union Civic Radical, Argentina's major pro-democratic political party.

FOUR LIBERALS WIN IN QUEBEC

Union Nationale Candidates Given Crushing Setback in Provincial By-Elections

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP).—The Liberal Government of Premier Adelard Godbout retained all four seats in four provincial by-elections today.

Defeated candidates lost their deposits in all ridings except Montreal-St. James when they failed to poll half the votes of the winning candidate.

In Westmount-St. George, election of George C. Marler, city councillor, was conceded less than one and one-half hours after the polls closed. His final margin over Kenneth Lyall, Progressive, was more than 5,000 votes.

In the industrial district of Montreal-St. Ann, Thomas Guerin more than doubled the votes polled by his Union Nationale opponent, T. J. Coonan, while in the part-urban, part-rural riding of Richelieu-Vercheres, Dr. J. W. Robidoux, former mayor of Sorel, scored an easy victory over Honorious Michaud, Union Nationale.

CLOSE IN ONE RIDING

Only in Montreal-St. James was the balloting close. There, the election of Claude Jodoin was not conceded until almost all the 186 polls had reported. The final count for the night, with one poll missing, gave him 10,899 votes as compared with 9,706 for M. C. Cote, Union Nationale.

The by-elections raised the Liberal membership of the Legislative Assembly, Provincial Lower House, to sixty-nine, with the Union Nationale holding sixteen seats and an Independent holding one in the eighty-six-seat House.

GANDHI APPEALS FOR "NO SCORCHED EARTH"

BOMBAY, March 23 (CP).—M. K. Gandhi appealed to the Government today not to adopt a "scorched earth" policy in defending India because, he said, the mass of the people is opposed.

Writing in his newspaper, Harijan, the Indian leader declared the Government could considerably ease the present situation and allay anxiety about the future if it announced unequivocably that such a policy never would be employed.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 23 (By Cable) —The Allied offensive in New Guinea has cost the Japanese heavily in bombers and fighters, many of which were destroyed on the ground. The attack was pressed home and enemy airmen, especially at Lae, were driven to shelter. The Australian Air Force operates from bases in northern territory, bombing islands as far away as 300 miles to the north.

Messages from Papua, says The Times' Canberra correspondent, indicate the outbreak of tribal warfare in the wild Sepik River area, from which Australian administrators have withdrawn. The Kulus, who are semi-dwarf cannibalistic head hunters, are likely to make the Japanese advance dangerous, as they attack white men and all others indiscriminately with poisoned arrows and spears stealthily at night.

They are the only tribesmen in Papua who can not be brought under control.

Editorially, The Times says Premier Churchill's selection of Richard Casey, Australian diplomat at Washington, as the War Cabinet's representative in the Middle East is approved everywhere.

As for the momentary difference of opinion to which it has given rise between Churchill and Premier Curtin, this seems to have been due to the broadcast announcement from London of Casey's appointment, which Premier Curtin mistakenly believed to have preceded the prior intimation to himself that propriety and courtesy demanded. But for this no criticism would have been heard.

Chinese troops have been in action on the Toungoo front in Burma where they have been concentrating for some time past. They come from Chiang Kai-Shek's best armies, and are well versed in Japanese battle tactics. So far the enemy is showing no eagerness to push forward to the oilfields.

According to The Times' military correspondent, the enemy is making rapid advance up the Sittang Valley. Apparently he is desirous of coming to grips with the Chinese before they can be further reinforced.

The whole Russian front, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent, now presents the Germans with ever-growing dangers and difficulties. Once again fighting has blazed up on the Leningrad front and once more the Nazis are trying all they know how to relieve their beleaguered 16th Army at Staraya Russa. Berlin, however, is inclined to admit the plight of this army is hopeless through heavy losses inflicted by the Soviets' artillery. Nothing has been heard of Von Leeb since his shattering defeat at Tikvin.

In the Spring offensive the Germans will likely try to advance here jointly with Karelian Isthmus attacks but the Russians now have formidable fortifications which can not be forced except at great cost.

South of Kharkov a large-scale battle is proceeding, the outcome of which will be of great importance.

ORDER AFFECTS MEAT PACKERS

Must Sell to Retailers at Price Not Greater Than Peak in Basic Period

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—The Wartime Prices and Trade Board, in a move aimed at permitting maintenance of the price ceiling on meat, tonight announced a new order, effective immediately, which will have the effect in some cases of reducing the cost to retailers of meat and meat products.

Under the order retail stores are entitled to buy meat and meat products obtained from cattle or hogs at a cost not greater than the highest price paid by that store to the same packer or wholesaler during the basic period September 15-October 11 last.

Under the maximum prices regulations, a meat seller previously was permitted to charge all his customers the highest price obtained from any individual customer during the basic period, provided usual discounts and terms of sale were continued.

The new order requires packers and wholesalers to observe their individual maximum prices to each retail store.

A board statement said the new order was drawn up to protect the retail price at which meat is sold to the public.

Pilots of United Nations Make Far-Ranging Attacks on Enemy Bases While Opponents Launch Bombing Assaults on Northern Australian Defence Points—Damage Believed Slight

MacArthur Has Talks With Senior Australian Officers

MELBOURNE, Australia, March 23 (AP).—In the face of heavy losses inflicted by powerful Allied counter-action that had damaged or destroyed nearly fifty enemy planes in four days, the Japanese Command hurled its bomber squadrons today at the whole of the Northern Australian defence periphery. Allied pilots replied with far-ranging attacks upon enemy bases north of the mainland.

Wyndham, on the Western Australian mainland, was under assault for ten minutes by a medium force of enemy bombers, and to the east, Port Moresby, on Southern New Guinea, an advanced Allied position which the Japanese for days had sought in vain to reduce, was attacked by nineteen heavy bombers, which dropped sixty-seven bombs.

Again, it appeared, the Port Moresby airdrome was the target for targets.

Four Japanese fighters dipped to 200 feet with their machine-guns and cannon blazing, and ran into a steel barrage. One plane swerved sharply, crashed into a hill and bounced twenty yards up its side. The pilot was hurled more than 400 feet. A second was believed destroyed.

ATTACK IN WAVES

Immediately before, bombers had attacked their objectives in two waves of ten and nine machines. Many high explosives and scatter bombs were dropped but the damage was believed slight.

The extent of the raid, together with the known heavy losses the Japanese have suffered in recent weeks, indicated the enemy had placed extensive air power in New Guinea and might be expecting to use it for an air base against the mainland.

Earlier, the rear gunner of an

Four Killed In Collision Of Aircraft

WINNIPEG, March 23 (CP).—Four airmen were killed, one seriously injured and one escaped injury when two training planes from the No. 5 Bombing and Gunnery School at Dafoe, Sask., collided in mid-air and crashed six miles southeast of the school's airdrome today.

Royal Canadian Air Force officials at the No. 2 Training Command here, said names of the six occupants of the two Fairey battle planes involved in the accident are being withheld pending notification of the next-of-kin.

BALKAN UNREST GAINS STEADILY

Rumania Complaining Bitterly Over Losses of Manpower and Territory

BERNE, March 23 (AP).—Rumania already has lost 115,000 men in the fight against Russia, and the people are complaining bitterly over the losses both of manpower, and territory ceded to Hungary, the Balkan correspondent of The Basle National Zeitung said tonight.

This is only one aspect of the complicated Balkan squabbles which may wreck Germany's attempt to gain more reinforcements in the struggle, sources with close Balkan connections said.

They pointed out that King Boris of Bulgaria still is resisting attempts to pit his country against the Soviet, but conceded there was a possibility of Bulgaria being talked into a campaign against Turkey.

FRICTION OF NEW ORDER

"The friction of the already established new order in Southeastern Europe," The National Zeitung's correspondent said, "cannot be maintained much longer.

"In view of this situation it seems the German tactics of referring all interested parties to the time after final victory cannot be continued for a long time, and that a dissolution of the forced community of Southeastern partners of the Axis is possible."

WOULD SEND TOKEN FORCE

Green Urges Government to Send Troops to Australia —Wants Home Guard

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP). — Dispatch of at least "a token force" of Canadians to aid in defence of Australia was urged in the House of Commons tonight by Howard Green (Conservative, Vancouver South), speaking in debate on Finance Minister Ilsley's $135,000,000 supplementary war appropriation for the current fiscal year.

Mr. Green said that since the Japanese threat became apparent on the Pacific the Canadian Government had gone "placidly" on, not attempting to increase the forces at home or otherwise.

He urged that men from nineteen to thirty-five years, who would undoubtedly do Canada's fighting, should be mobilized and trained without delay.

LEADERSHIP LACKING

Canadians were ready and anxious to make whatever sacrifices in wealth or service necessary to defend Canada, but they were given no leadership, said Mr. Green.

It was quite possible that Canada's best Pacific Coast defence might be fought in Australia, and at least a small token force from this country

REPORTS SWEDES ARE MOBILIZING

Manoeuvres Said to Be Screen as Germans Concentrate on Baltic Coast

LONDON, March 24 (Tuesday) (CP).—The military manoeuvres in Northern Sweden are a screen for complete mobilization of the Swedish army in the face of heavy German concentrations along the Baltic coast, The Daily Express foreign editor, Charley Foley, wrote today.

The reserves who took part in these manoeuvres "will not be released, and more are being quietly called up every day," he said.

The final stage of mobilization is expected by April 9, the second anniversary of the invasion of Norway, he said.

Cut of One Mill in Rate for Taxation Is Made by Council

Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau Grant Reduced to $10,000—No Cost-of-Living Bonus Passed for Civic Employees by Aldermen

A REDUCTION of one mill in the tax rate, a curtailed grant of $10,000 to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, and no cost-of-living bonus to civic employees were settled by the City Council yesterday during a lengthy session that commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning and ended shortly before 6 o'clock in the evening.

The tax rate now stands at thirty-seven mills on 100 per cent of the value of land and 65 per cent of the assessed value of improvements.

When afternoon discussion opened on estimates, Alderman Duncan D. McTavish suggested a grant of $5,000 to St. Joseph's Hospital, pointing out the institution provided $80,000 in free services last year. Alderman John A. Worthington, president of the Royal Jubilee Hospital board of directors, stated that hospital provided $115,000 in free services. A letter from St. Joseph's Hospital asking for assistance was received and filed.

A vote of $500 was passed for any civic entertainments that might be held. Requests from the city solicitor, engineer and electrician for salary increases were received and filed. Application of Johnson Street Bridge operators for an increase in their annual salaries of $1,620 was referred to the public works committee.

BATTLING FOR AIR SUPREMACY

Japanese Rush Planes to Burma—Ten Enemy Aircraft Destroyed

LONDON, March 23 (CP).—Strong Japanese plane reinforcements were being rushed into Burma today, as blow and counter-blow against airdromes signified the vast importance attached by both sides to control of the skies.

The British Command reported that for the second successive day heavy Japanese bomber formations dealt damage to a British flying field in Central Burma, while the Royal Air Force pounced down on a Japanese base on Mingaladon.

Ten to twelve Japanese planes were destroyed over or on the airdrome ten miles north of Rangoon.

Informed sources in London said the Japanese were speeding more planes into Burma in a determined effort to wrest air superiority from the R.A.F. and the American volunteer group.

FAR FROM SUPREMACY

These sources said, however, that it could be assumed the defenders also were getting reinforcements and declared that the Japanese still were far from the goal of supremacy.

Land skirmishes continued. A British motor patrol reported it dispatched a Japanese officer and some men on the, prowl in a private car at Letpadan, seventy miles north of Rangoon on the Irrawaddy River front. On the Sittang River front, to the east, the Chinese expeditionary force holding that sector reported the Japanese were using light artillery, but that the Chinese had suffered no casualties from it.

NAZI IN CHARGE OF MALTA RAIDS

Man Who Directed Devastation of Warsaw and Coventry Is Moved to Sicily

LONDON, March 23 (CP). — The Nazi air commander who directed the devastation of Warsaw and Coventry, Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, has been put in charge of German airmen in Sicily, British informants reported today.

The move was interpreted here as possibly pointing to a stepped-up aerial offensive against Malta, possibly followed by seaborne invasion.

Today was a typical one in the life of the battered island—the Germans blasted away without pause from dawn to dusk, and in so doing lost three planes for certain and two probables and six others were damaged. Not a single R.A.F. fighter was lost.

Cumberland Plea to Exclude Mennonites Receives No Support

City Council Fails to Agree That Conscientious Objectors Be Kept From Province But Suggests Army Rate Pay for Them

A PROTEST of the Cumberland Council against plans of the Provincial Government to bring 3,000 Mennonites and other conscientious objectors to British Columbia for forestry work was not endorsed by the City Council at a meeting yesterday morning, but aldermen felt such persons should not be allowed to take advantage of the labor shortage.

"I think we better stop trying to embarrass the Government. This should be received and filed," Alderman B. J. Gadsden commented. "I second the motion." Alderman P. E. George replied. "At a meeting of mayors and reeves at New Westminster on March 16 many were opposed to the Mennonite movement, but felt a forthcoming crisis in farm labor should be prevented."

Mayor Andrew McGavin answered Alderman Gadsden. "The council is here for the purpose of watching actions of people and governments, and to air its views. As long as I am sitting here I shall express my views."

"What about our own conscientious objectors in British Columbia? I do not think Mennonites should be brought to the province," Alderman W. H. Davies added.

"Mennonites were brought to Canada by the Federal Government under an agreement exempting them from military service. They are good farmers," Alderman Gadsden stated.

EXPRESSES VIEWS

"If a conscientious objector is physically fit and employed on a farm he should receive no more pay than a private in the army. Conscientious objectors want somebody else to do the killing for them while they stay at home and make money," Alderman Archie Wills charged.

"I agree," Alderman F. A. Willis answered. "Pay of $1.30 per day should be given. From Halifax to Victoria we are provincial-minded. The Federal Government should give us a strong lead in the war effort."

"Farm laborers receive from $30 to $40 per month," Alderman Gadsden interjected.

On motion of Aldermen Wills and Gadsden, the council decided to receive and file the Cumberland motion about Mennonites, with a rider added that they should receive no more than soldier's pay if brought to British Columbia to work.

A letter from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council suggested a co-ordinated ambulance service for Greater Victoria. It was received and filed on motion of Alderman Wills, and the council notified that aldermen were willing to co-operate at any time. "We are not going to furnish ambulances for other municipalities. The only two here are owned by a company. They are both at the beck and call of any municipality." Mayor McGavin declared.

HOUSING ACT

A suggestion of the Building Contractors' Association of Vancouver that the council endorse a plea to Ottawa for continuation of the National Housing Act was referred to the lands committee.

A communication from the City Hall Officials' Association asking that the council deal with the forthcoming superannuation of twenty-four employees was handed to the estimates committee. The council plans to retain the services of a number who have reached the age of sixty-five years.

"Why cannot the officials' association leave the old men alone in their jobs? What do they want?" Mayor McGavin asked. "It seems to me some of them want the same pay as those who are superannuated and then re-engaged."

Resignation of J. R. McCann was accepted as caretaker at Cabin Pond on the watershed. The water board was asked to immediately fill the vacancy.

In committee of the whole, the council listened to W. Herbert Warren, city parks superintendent, and George H. E. Green, a teacher, make a request for a cost-of-living bonus to civic employees. Mr. Warren suggested a bonus based on the Federal Government index be paid to all employees irrespective of salaries received. He stated both the Federal and Provincial Governments intended to provide bonuses. Mr. Green reminded the council the cost of living here was at least 5 per cent higher than the cost at Vancouver.

CRIPPS ACTIVE AT NEW DELHI

Emissary Starts Work on Urgent Mission of Indian Unification

NEW DELHI, India, March 23 (AP). Britain's emissary, Sir Stafford Crippe, began today a whirlwind campaign to unify India's discordant millions on a programme of freedom and self-defence.

Sir Stafford came by plane from Karachi and lost no time in making clear that he considered his mission urgent.

Explaining that he planned to stay but two weeks, he said he hoped that his conferences with a variety of Indian leadership would bring "quick decisions," which would permit the Indian people to "associate themselves fully and freely, not only with Great Britain and other Dominions, but also with our great Allies, Russia, China and the United States . . . to preserve the liberty of the people of the world."

PURPOSE OF VISIT

He said he had come "to set out finally and with precision the practical steps which his Majesty's Government propose as a method of fulfilling their past promises of self-government to the Indian peoples."

"No real major, fundamental change can be made" in the proposals which he has brought, he said in reply to questions.

Although Sir Stafford did not outline the proposals, the fact that he spoke of India associating herself "freely and fully" with the United Nations pointed to some immediate, transitory form of self-government, as a means of fulfilling "past promises" of dominion status after the war.

SPEED LIMIT TO BE FORTY MILES

likely to lose the war unless we can get enough oil and enough rubber, you will understand how very serious our position is and why the conservation of these two essentials is causing us so much anxiety," he added.

Crude oil which Canada imports provides not only gasoline for automobiles but high grade gasoline for aviation use and light and heavy fuel oils and lubricating oil essential to the army and navy.

"We are dependent upon the United States and a few other outside sources to supply us with more than 80 per cent of our petroleum requirements," Mr. Howe said.

Canada's only major oil-producing field, Turner Valley in Alberta, could meet only one-sixteenth of the country's present needs. The flow from Turner Valley wells was a natural one, Mr. Howe said, and to increase it pumps would be required and a drop in the output would soon result. Experts were generally agreed that the present Turner Valley limit could not be extended safely or economically.

Transportation was placed by Mr. Howe at the top of problems in the importation of oil.

"Ever yendeavor has been made to see that the system of rationing is fair," the minister said, appealing for the co-operation of "every man and woman in Canada who uses gasoline or oil in any form."

The amount allocated for each category was "the maximum quantity of gasoline which, under present conditions, the Government dares to release for these purposes."

Careful supervision was planned.

"There will be no waste if the Government can prevent it," he said. "Those who try to evade the law will be dealt with severely."

Motorists could give valuable assistance in two ways—by getting their gasoline ration books before April 1 and by using less than their full ration of gasoline.

Turning to rubber—"our principal worry"—Mr. Howe said: "When I say the rubber situation is desperate I am not exaggerating. It is just about the toughest problem we have ever had to face. It is not only our problem here but the problem of all the United Nations."

The world supply in 1941 was 1,500,000 tons. Now with Japan controlling all main sources, only 150,000 tons a year was available for the needs of the entire non-Axis world.

Bare war needs of the United Nations were five times that amount and with the addition of the minimum amount required for non-war purposes the United Nations required seven times as much rubber as now is available.

The full output of synthetic rubber plants would be required for war purposes, he said. Large complicated plants which provide a new drain on crude oil supplies were necessary and would not be in operation until next year.

"All this adds up to the cold, hard fact that when the tires you now have are worn out, your motoring is over until some considerable time after the war ends," he explained. "You and I are using our last set of tires; let's make them last a long time."

"Let us remember our enemies have done without rubber tires for the last two and one-half years," Mr. Howe said. "I can assure you that the sacrifices we ask you to make to conserve rubber are not only necessary but inevitable."

should be sent if nothing more could be done.

Mr. Green also urged creation of a strong home defence corps, particularly on the Pacific Coast, with every able-bodied man trained to defend his country.

NON-WAR PRODUCTION

He said there now was a greatly-increased volume of non-war production and distribution in Canada as compared with the pre-war era and there was no direction from the Government to divert this effort to war purposes.

Attack in Canada might come at any time, Mr. Green said. Policies should be devised at once regarding evacuation of civilians and adoption of a "scorched earth" programme if that should be necessary.

Mr. Green referred to Australia's request for a Pacific Council sitting in Washington. He said Canada should endorse that proposal and ask for representation on the council.

FOOD PRICES ARE PROBLEM

to October 11 last, on which the price ceiling is based.

The prices of imported dried fruits have been affected by a reduction in sources of supply due to spreading war, and importers and retailers are finding it difficult to hold the basic level.

The major difficulty in respect to grocery items has been caused by the difference between retailers' buying and selling prices during the basic period.

REPLACEMENT COSTS

Prices and Trade Board officials said that retailers for some time have been faced with replacement costs higher than they could reasonably be expected to bear. Manufacturers' and processors' prices rose rapidly last Summer and Autumn, but in many cases retailers' prices did not rise to the same extent since they had purchased at lower prices earlier in the year and continued to sell at the old prices.

When the price ceiling was imposed they had no option but to continue selling at the prices they charged during the basic period. They had the opportunity of consulting with processors and manufacturers and having them bear a part of the "squeeze," but in the food and groceries field the board has found the spread is too large to be borne by those handling such goods.

SCOPE FOR ECONOMIES

"In the food and groceries field the operating margins are narrow and the scope for economies is not great," an official said.

The board has "decisively rejected" any suggestion that the price ceiling should be raised on meat and groceries, taking the attitude that such goods are essential and the cost of living must not be permitted to rise.

This means that the board must arrange for subsidies for products which cannot otherwise be kept under the ceiling. On imported goods, arrangements may be made to forego duties.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES' STRIKE AVERTED

Vancouver Mayor Proposes Bonus Scale Which Is Accepted by Workers' Federation

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP).—An eleventh-hour proposal by Mayor J. W. Cornett today averted a threatened strike by Vancouver's 700 civic employees over a cost-of-living bonus dispute when the executive of the Civic (Employees) Federation agreed to accept a $10 a month bonus up to July 1 and $12 a month for the remainder of the year.

City council late today ratified acceptance of the bonus, which is expected to be formally approved tomorrow.

A mass meeting of the employees yesterday had endorsed a plan to walk out of their jobs within seven days unless a settlement was reached by 5 p.m. today.

JAPANESE MAY INVADE COAST

Rev. Lorimer G. Baker Declares They Have Both Army and Programme

"I feel very definitely that it would be nothing short of criminal if we overlooked the strong probability of a Japanese invasion of the Pacific Coast. They have what is necessary to invade our homeland, that is, both an army and a programme," stated Rev. Lorimer G. Baker, B.A., Vancouver, who arrived in the city yesterday and will speak tonight in the Shrine auditorium at 8 o'clock on "Japan Coveta British Columbia —Will Japan Attempt an Invasion?"

Mr. Baker, who spent nine years in Manchuria and claims to be well versed in the Japanese secret programme, declared that in the first place, round a nucleus of veterans trained in actual combat in China and at Changkufeng and Nomohan on the Siberian borders, the Japanese have formed autonomous armies for service in the South Seas, in China, in Manchuria, and eventually on the Pacific Coast.

CAN RAISE BIG ARMY

"Again, they have a plan based not alone upon the Tanaka Memorial of 1927, but also upon the exigencies of the present situation. Every land that they conquer in the South Seas frees more soldiers to fight against Russia or America. The size of this army has not yet been correctly estimated, but, if Germany can raise an army of 7,000,000 to 8,000,000, are there any reasons for supposing that Japan, with an equal population and conquests extending over as many people as that of Germany, or more, could not raise an army of equal size?" asked Mr. Baker.

Mr. Baker said that the dangerous feature of the programme was that Japan's levies are already trained, many of them in actual warfare, and those of Canada and America are in primary stages of warfare.

"Surely these facts are enough to banish complacency," Mr. Baker declared.

ELEVEN AXIS SHIPS SUNK BY SUBMARINES

from the U-boat who were struggling in the water was interfered with by enemy aircraft and had to be abandoned," the Admiralty said.

The same British submarine was credited with torpedoing and almost certainly sinking a large, strongly escorted Axis supply ship.

ATTACKS IN ADRIATIC

The fourth British submarine, penetrating to the Adriatic Sea, used her deck gun to sink a small enemy supply ship, then departed unscathed by the fire of Italian shore batteries in Albania.

As if to build a backfire to this series of British successes, the Italian Command claimed a British convoy sailing to Malta had suffered "repeated hits" from Axis torpedo planes and that Italian naval formations had overtaken and engaged the convoy in the Gulf of Sirte this afternoon, inflicting further damage.

It was stated reliably in London that no British ships had been sunk, although damage to some was acknowledged.

The Italians claimed the British convoy consisted of eight or ten transports guarded by five to seven destroyers, but informed persons in London expressed doubts about any such large number of transports being sent to the Malta outpost.

1500 MORE Office-Workers Now Protected by IMPERIAL LIFE

● Women are business people nowadays—more than ever before. Of the 1500 policies issued by The Imperial Life to office-workers last year, many were purchased by women secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers, clerks, telephone operators, and others who help to keep Canadian business humming.

Some bought to assure future financial security — endowments — annuities — income after retirement. Others, to protect parents or other dependent relatives. Imperial Life policies are varied, flexible, matching every insurance need.

These women are happier now. They know the peace of mind that an Imperial Life policy brings.

In 1941, alone, eight thousand men and women, variously occupied, bought Imperial Life protection. To a constantly enlarging cross-section of the people of Canada The Imperial Life is "my insurance company".

Income Tax Transfer And Gift to Britain Measures Advanced

Impressive Tributes Paid to Late J. S. Woodsworth —Hanson Says New Brunswick Needs War Industries Going to Central Provinces

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Two of the Government's major financial measures advanced a stage in the House of Commons today when the $1,000,000,000 Gift-to-Britain Bill received second reading, and first reading was given two bills arising from the transfer of income and corporation tax collection from the provinces to the Dominion for the duration of the war received first reading.

The Gift-to-Britain Bill passed on second reading without comment or division since it had been debated last week. It went at once to the committee stage where discussion is continuing.

Finance Minister Ilsley obtained consent of the House to dispense with the usual day's notice for introducing money bills to get the income tax measures before the House. There was a brief debate on the distribution of war industries among the provinces.

IMPRESSIVE TRIBUTES

One of the most impressive tributes accorded a deceased member in recent years was given J. S. Woodsworth, leader of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, who died in Vancouver, Saturday. When the sitting opened Prime Minister Mackenzie King led off in a series of speeches which testified to the admiration of members of all parties for the man who was once a storm-centre of many debates.

Joining in the tributes were Conservative House Leader Hanson, New Democracy Leader Blackmore, Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford), Resources Minister Crerar, Liguori Lacombe (Con., Laval-Two Mountains), Rev. Dan McIvor (Lib., Fort William), Ralph Maybank (Lib., Winnipeg South Centre), War Services Minister Thorson and J. E. Poulliot (Lib., Temiscouata).

M. J. Coldwell, acting C.C.F. House leader, added his own tribute and expressed thanks for the expressions of other members. He said Mr. Woodsworth had hoped to retire before the last election and devote himself to teaching young people to be of greater service to Canada.

AS AID TO LEGISLATURES

Mr. Ilsley said he introduced the provincial income tax bills so the Legislatures which now are considering agreements for the transfer of their tax jurisdiction to the Dominion in exchange for subsidies could have the measures before them.

The main measures authorize the Minister of Finance to enter agreements with the provinces for the provinces to cease collecting income and corporation taxes in return for special compensation from the Federal Treasury.

The agreement also authorizes the minister to compensate provinces for loss of gasoline tax revenue caused by Federal wartime restrictions.

The act is to be retroactive to March 15.

The second bill introduced by the minister provides for payment of the special subsidies to the Maritime Provinces pursuant to the reports of the Duncan and White Royal Commissions on Maritime Province claims of some years ago.

The subsidies are: Nova Scotia, $1,300,000; New Brunswick, $900,000; Prince Edward Island, $275,000.

WAR INDUSTRIES

It was Mr. Hanson who raised the question of war industries. He said New Brunswick was not giving up a provincial income tax, but a municipal tax and the municipalities were not to be compensated. Instead they would have to impose additional taxes on real estate and raise money in other ways while the Provincial Government with the proposed subsidy would receive additional revenue.

The New Brunswick Government, he said, was budgeting for double the amount of its 1935 budget at a time when Mr. Ilsley was calling on "everybody to tighten their belts and reduce civilian expenditures of every kind."

"We just can't live down there (in New Brunswick) without war industries," Mr. Hanson said. People were sick of seeing so much industry concentrated in the Central Provinces, Mr. Hanson said.

KILLED AT MINE

Leonard Hyslead, eighteen years of age and single, was killed in an accident in the rock house at Kimberley Mine at 4 p.m. on Saturday, according to advices received yesterday at headquarters of the Provincial Police. His parents reside at Kimberley. No details of the fatality were learned here. Inquest was ordered.

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Pensions Minister Mackenzie announced today that James E. Mackay of Renfrew and Kingston, Ont., has been named secretary of the seven-member advisory Committee on Reconstruction.

JAPANESE LOSE FIFTY PLANES

Allied plane over the invaded island of Timor had shot down a Japanese flight plane attempting an interception. Thus the day brought three more probable enemy losses to add to the previous grand total of forty-four run up by Allied action from Friday onward through Sunday. Total Allied losses for this same period were not tabulated; they were not large, however.

CONTINUOUS SERIES

Timor likewise was the scene of one of the now almost unending series of Allied counter-attacks, the Japanese-held city of Ili having been bombed there during the day in a follow-up of week-end raids.

Afield, meanwhile, action was both light and inconclusive. The Japanese infiltration troops which had begun last week a slow and difficult march toward the Markham Valley in New Guinea, apparently with the intention of seizing valley airfields for use against Port Moresby, appeared to have made no further advance.

These invaders set out from Lae, on northwestern New Guinea, where beachheads obtained some time ago have since been under running Allied air attack.

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, Australia, March 23 (AP).—With confidence and deep feeling, General Douglas MacArthur spent two hours today in giving news correspondents a complete account of the Pacific war situation.

The conference was "off the record," but all the fifty correspondents agreed that the supreme commander left nothing to the imagination as he strode to and fro in a makeshift press headquarters and dealt out the facts.

UNBOUNDED FAITH

While sparing nothing of the stark realities of the situation, he declared his unbounded faith in the cause of the United Nations.

The impression made on Australian news men by the slim, keen-eyed general was typified by this account from the Melbourne Herald's correspondent:

"He isn't only a first-class thinker but a fine speaker . . .

"I cannot say what MacArthur said, but none who heard could fail to be heartened not only by what he said but also by the way he said it."

The general spent much of the day with Army Minister Francis Forde, Lt.-Gen. Vernon Sturdee, chief of the Australian General Staff, and other senior officers.

General Douglas MacArthur has "absolute confidence in complete victory."

WAVELL'S MESSAGE

He disclosed this today in making public a telegram to General Chiang Kai-Shek, one of a series he exchanged with the Chinese war leader and General Sir Archibald Wavell, British commander in India, who congratulated MacArthur on being chosen United Nations supreme commander in the Southwest Pacific.

General Wavell's message: "Wish you all good fortune and success in your new command."

General MacArthur's answer: "Thanks for your thoughtful message. I will do my best."

Chiang's message: "News of your appointment as commander-in-chief for Australia and New Zealand fills me with delight. I feel confident that under your leadership a new and epic chapter of military successes and human achievements will be added to the history of our common struggle against treachery and barbarism."

General MacArthur's answer: "Deeply appreciate your inspiring message. I have absolute confidence in complete victory."

CUT OF ONE MILL MADE BY COUNCIL

lis and B. J. Gadsden presented a report suggesting the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau receive a grant of $10,000, compared with $20,000 passed last year and $17,500 proposed by several aldermen last month.

"There is a persistent rumor from Vancouver that C.P.R. service between Victoria and Vancouver is to be discontinued next Summer and all travel routed by way of Nanaimo to Vancouver Island," the Mayor declared in the course of discussion of the Publicity Bureau grant.

"Captain R. W. McMurray, manager of the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, repudiated the rumor," Alderman Davies answered.

"The Federal Minister of Finance asked publicity bureaus throughout Canada to carry on. If the council has no confidence in the five aldermen who represent the city on the bureau, we will asked to be released of our duties," Alderman Davies commented in connection with the aldermen's report.

COMPROMISE AMOUNT

"The $10,000 suggested in the report is a compromise amount. I am not prepared to vote one cent for publicity unless I feel the money is being well spent. Bureau overhead is 40 per cent, compared with 10 per cent in the Provincial Travel Bureau," Alderman Morgan stated. He then moved the Provincial Government be asked if the Travel Bureau would take over city publicity at no extra cost to taxpayers. The matter was left in the hands of Mayor McGavin.

A grant of $10,000 was finally passed to the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, with the Mayor and Alderman Hawkins registering the only negative votes. It was then suggested that $2,000 be paid to the bureau on account of activities up to the end of April. On motion of Alderman Morgan, the payment was cut to $1,500 with no dissenting votes.

OUTLINES SURPLUS

Alderman Morgan revealed that if the tax rate was set at thirty-seven mills the council would have a surplus of $70,563 for necessary items. He stated estimates contained $17,500 for a bonus to employees in receipt of $125 and less per month, similar payments having been made [illegible].

The sum of $5,000 was placed in the contingency fund in case Better Housing Act payments arising from the Great War might have to be made. Mayor McGavin stated the city's bank overdraft of $400,000 required an interest payment of $16,000 per year. It was agreed to reduce the overdraft by payment of $10,000. A vote of $5,000 was passed for flush coating of streets in need of repairs.

The city comptroller stated that municipalities were exempted from an order in council requiring payment of a cost-of-living bonus. "The bonus is in the air. New Government regulations appear frequently. We should wait and see what transpires," Alderman Morgan commented. It was agreed to place $50,000 in the contingency fund "for a cost-of-living bonus, if we need it."

Alderman Wills then moved the tax rate be set at thirty-seven mills. Alderman Gadsden moved an amendment that a rate of thirty-eight mills be retained and any surplus be earmarked as a reserve for contingencies. "Cutting the mill rate helped to improve the city's financial condition and stimulated building in recent years," Mayor McGavin asserted. Aldermen Hawkins, Willis, George, Gadsden and Williams voted to retain a rate of thirty-eight mills, meaning no reduction, but the amendment was defeated with six not in favor. Alderman Wills' motion for a rate of thirty-seven mills was then passed.

WILL COMPILE VOTERS' LIST

Federal Enumerators, Now Appointed, to Begin House Canvass Next Week

House-to-house canvass for the compilation of a plebiscite voters' list will commence in the Federal riding of Victoria next week, with 134 enumerators now being named to attend to the work, Sydney Child, returning officer here, announced yesterday upon receipt of instructions from Ottawa.

"The canvass will start next week, and so far as it is possible polling will be held in the same places as at the last Federal election. The new list of voters must be ready by April 20, and it will be final in the form it is gathered by the enumerators in each of the 134 polling divisions. One enumerator will be appointed in each polling division, and deputy returning officers and poll clerks will be added for the actual polling on April 27," Mr. Child said.

Similar arrangements were believed under way in the other Federal ridings on Vancouver Island. The Victoria Federal riding takes in Victoria City, the Saanich strip, and the municipalities of Esquimalt and Oak Bay. Returning officers, with few exceptions, will be the same as at the last general election held by the Dominion. Three changes only have been made in British Columbia, due to removals or enlistments.

3 tbsps. melted butter ½ tsp. salt

Sift flour, measure, and sift again with soda, cream of tartar, and salt. Beat egg yolks until light; add milk and melted butter. Add flour mixture and stir until smooth. Fold in egg whites beaten until stiff but not dry. Drop by tablespoonfuls on hot, slightly greased griddle or heavy frying pan; bake until golden brown, turning once. Makes 18 four-inch flannel cakes. Serve with crisp bacon strips, heated syrup, butter. Serves 6.

WAR IN THE PACIFIC

The ability of Japan to invade any part of the coastline of this continent rests in the first place on her maintenance of command of the sea in the Pacific Ocean. The ability to resist invasion will depend in large measure on the strength of the naval and air power that is available to prevent landings. That is the experience of the War. It is inconceivable, to begin with, that Japan would attempt any major operation against this continent until she has bases in the Pacific much nearer to this coastline than any she has yet occupied. As a preliminary to such an operation it seems axiomatic that Australia and New Zealand would have to be conquered, and following that feat the Hawaiian Islands would have to be subdued. There is, it is true, the possibility of invasion by way of the Aleutian Islands as stepping stones to Alaska. While Japan is engaged on her present adventures such a happening seems unlikely.

The vital factor of sea power has dominated the war in the Pacific Ocean. Without it in great strength Japan could have made few if any of her conquests, save perhaps in Malaya, where her troops advanced through Indo-China and Thailand. As long as she maintains her present superiority on sea and in the air she can bring large land forces to bear on points far separated from each other. Doubtless when she attacks Australia, as it seems certain she will, landings will be effected at several points simultaneously. The United Nations have, so far, no effective naval forces to prevent this, and it is known that in all her invasions up to date Japan has not brought her main battle fleet into action. The reason for this is that she is fighting so far away from her home ports that were her capital ships badly damaged she would not have the drydocking facilities available nearby to effect repairs.

The assumption may well be that if Japan's range of conquests is brought to a full stop in Australia any belief on this continent that invasion may be expected here will be largely dissipated. The danger to the enemy would be too great with a fighting Australia on the flank of her lines of communication. Those lines, too, would have to be stretched out by thousands of miles, making them by far more vulnerable than they are at present.

It is not air power, it is not the strength of land forces, but it is that gathering of naval might that will be the first factor in the ultimate defeat of Japan. It is naval strength brought to bear in the defence of any new territory she may attack that will lead to its successful defence. In any defensive preparations being made on this coastline, for instance, that is the realization that should come uppermost. No one can be satisfied that enough is being done in preparation for any potential attack unless there is the adequate sea power available to destroy invasion forces before they reach their destination, and, complementary to such sea power, there must be proportionate aerial strength. The most successful of all ways to repel attempts at invasion is never to allow land battles to develop.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

An Ottawa correspondent says that the National Selective Service plan to be put into effect by the Dominion Government "will be drastic and comprehensive" to a degree not so far indicated. There can be nothing drastic and nothing comprehensive in a plan which is to be decreed on a purely voluntary basis. There is nothing drastic in the raising of an Active Service Force in this country, either for home defence or service overseas, except to the very limited extent that conscription has been applied for the former purpose. Similarly, any national selective scheme is comparatively futile unless it is based on conscription for war effort.

What is proposed is, obviously, to endeavor to induce certain workers engaged in unessential industries, or industries that have no bearing on the war effort, to leave their present occupations and engage in others in which, in many cases, they will have had no experience. The Government proposes, too, to ignore the findings of National Registration which it has at hand and to send out a new questionnaire, a purpose which will take months before any decisions could be reached, just as it took so many months to collate the results of National Registration. However high sounding the term National Selective Service may be it implies little or nothing unless there is national selection, and that is not what is intended. The proposal is that men and women should transfer from one industry to another where their services will be more useful, but it is to be left to themselves to say if they will do this. They have already intimated the extent to which they are willing in the forms filled in during National Registration. The Government has, therefore, only to call upon their services on that basis, but so much time has elapsed that many people may have changed their minds.

It is true that the Ottawa correspondent says that the Government in introducing "national selective" service will have behind it the powers of compulsion contained in the Mobilization of Resources Act. It had those powers when National Registration was achieved and it never made the slightest attempt to utilize them. There is no indication that it will do so now, even if the forthcoming plebiscite receives an affirmative answer. The claim is that through "national selection," to quote the Ottawa correspondent, "there will be one pool for war industrial production, one for agricultural work and one for the armed services," and that, "from these groups, individuals will be drawn to man the various civilian and military services necessary to bring Canadian war effort to its peak." No one believes that this will be done to the fullest extent; no one imagines that the Government, overnight, has decided on compulsion of this kind. It should, but the trouble is that it will be found that "national selection" is yet another half-baked measure which will not fulfil the purpose of bringing the country into the War to the utmost of her strength. If that were the intention then time, which is so very valuable now, would be saved and the Government would take advantage of the results of National Registration, instead of befuddling the people by yet another questionnaire.

MR. J. S. WOODSWORTH

From its beginning some ten years ago, Mr. J. S. Woodsworth has been regarded as the mainspring of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. It was through it that he first came really prominently into the public arena. His occupational life had been a varied one but through it all there ran that strain of propaganda which finally led him to develop a socialistic creed which he embodied into a programme that soon gained a substantial number of adherents drawn from all ranks of thought in the country. Mr. Woodsworth had been in Parliament for a decade gaining experience of practice and procedure before he embarked on the formation of a strictly political organization as apart from labor but with an appeal devised to attract manual workers to its fold. From the beginning of his political career he was a good, if somewhat diffuse speaker, and arrested the attention of the House of Commons because of the continuity of his advocacy of certain measures and the strength of purpose he brought to bear on his argument.

During his latter years in Parliament, before illness overtook him, the late Mr. Woodsworth probably ranked in second place to the Prime Minister in the number of pages of Hansard he filled. That denoted what an active force he was in championing the causes he had at heart. He was a philanthropist by heredity, training and his own generous feelings. Because of his debating power he was a personal asset to parliamentary life and it was regretted by all parties when he had to give up his duties in the House of Commons and resign from the leadership of his party there. His death will be widely regretted, and especially by those who looked to him as a source of wise counsel in forwarding their political ambitions.

YOUTH IN HIGH COMMAND

There is the tendency, developing more and more, to appoint youth to high command in the War, and perhaps of all countries Russia has put it into practice best. Sir Stafford Cripps ascribes the fact that Russia was able to stem the German advance, and having stemmed it to open up an offensive of her own, mainly to two things. The first was the brilliancy of her young generals coupled with the initiative of officers and soldiers, and the second, "because every man, woman and child along the lines of communication behind the front gave their most devoted and obedient service to the saving of their country."

This statement leads The Evening Standard, London, to say that the prejudice in favor of youth should remain in wartime. "Daring and the readiness to learn and speed, these are the qualities of youth. They are the qualities that win wars." That newspaper then says: "Britain is ruled by the oldest House of Commons in modern history. Most of our generals are twice the age of Alexander when he had conquered the world. In almost avery walk of life a long apprenticeship extending to the middle fifties must be served before the summit of ambition and trust can be attained. The nation was recently informed by its late Ambassador in Moscow that the Russians possessed a number of generals in the thirties. At first sight the whole idea seemed indecent. Yet these novices have frivolously inflicted defeat on the German armies. It would be too presumptuous to say that their youth has any connection with their powers. Yet we would like to see our service departments taking a chance on a few Alexanders and Napoleons."

THE LITTLE WAVES OF BREFFNY

The grand road from the mountain goes shining to the sea,
And there is traffic in it, and many a horse and cart;
But the little roads of Cloonagh are dearer far to me,
And the little roads of Cloonagh go rambling through my heart.

A great storm from the ocean goes shouting o'er the hill,
And there is glory in it and terror on the wind;
But the haunted air of twilight is very strange and still,
And the little winds of twilight are dearer to my mind.

The great waves of the Atlantic sweep storming on their way,
Shining green and silver with the hidden herring shoal;
But the Little Waves of Breffny have drenched my heart in spray,
And the Little Waves of Breffny go stumbling through my soul.

—Eva Gore Booth.

A PROPHECY

The following remarkable prophecy, made in 1898 by that great patriot and imperialist, Rider Haggard, in his book "A Farmer's Year," may be of interest:

"Consider how vast is our strength, not only in money, ships, and guns, but in nations of mankind all the world over, sworn to our service, and in our colonial kindred, who, in most cases at any rate, would fight for us to the last ditch, if for no other reason because our fate must be their fate. The spectacle of the Empire defending itself against a combination of Powers, and putting out all its strength in men and money, would be the most tremendous that the world has ever seen. But although, doubtless, we should meet with reverses, for my part I should be sorry for the Powers, as I believe that within a year they would scarcely have a ship left between them, and not much British territory by way of consolation. One day the rest of the world, or most of it, I suppose, will fling itself at the throats of America and ourselves. That will be the day of Armageddon, after which may come the long peace. But the British Empire and the United States will dictate the terms of that peace."

CARGOES

Quinquireme of Nineveh from distant Ophir
Rowing home to haven in sunny Palestine,
With a cargo of ivory
And apes and peacocks,
Sandalwood, cedarwood, and sweet white wine.

Stately Spanish galleon coming from the Isthmus,
Dipping through the Tropics by the palm-green shores
With a cargo of diamonds,
Emeralds, amethysts,
Topazes, and cinnamon, and gold moidores.

Dirty British coaster with a salt-caked smoke stack,
Butting through the Channel in the mad March days
With a cargo of Tyne coal,

WHO DECLINES THE FIGHT

Oft had he mourn'd his boasting leaders bound,
And his proud bulwarks smoking on the ground;
In vain with powers renew'd he fill'd the plain,
Made tim'rous vows, and brib'd the Saints in vain;
As oft his legions did the fight decline,
Lurk'd in the trench, and skulk'd behind the line.

—Thomas Tickell.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

The Provincial Government is to be congratulated upon setting up the Postwar Rehabilitation Council, and upon being among the first of the provinces to do so in Canada. The choice of a council composed of equal representation from all three parties in the Legislature, under a coalition chairman, was a wise one, and the selection of the chairman one of the brightest inspirations of all. The first words from the new body, on the eve of its creation, were: "No politics." Men who have fought for their country will understand and will appreciate that.

Probably a dozen councils could have been selected from the Twentieth Legislature, all with something special to recommend them. The one that was chosen is a good cross-section of the House, and embodies all shades of British Columbia thought and opinion. Hon H. G. Perry, Minister of Education, was one of the most able speakers ever to preside over a British Columbia Legislature, setting a standard of fairness and impartiality that has proved to be a guiding light up to and including the present day. It is those very qualities, imbedded in a deeply capacious and enquiring mind, that should stand him in good stead now, as chairman of a body with a real and solid task ahead of it.

E. T. Kenny, the Member for Skeena, has spoken for returned men in three successive Legislatures. J. A. Paton, Member for Point Grey, made veterans' causes his hobby, while W. T. Straith, K.C., Member for Victoria, has added his voice when occasion demanded. Newer to public life, Harold E. Winch, Member for Vancouver East and leader of the Opposition, has shown both force and direction in legislative affairs, and his all-night study of the coal and petroleum report, followed by a concise and reasoned report in the morning, was a feat of application without exact parallel in provincial annals. W. A. C. Bennett, Member for South Okanagan, is new to the House, but not to the subject. C. Grant MacNeil, Member for Burrard, made a memorable address on returned veterans' problems in the closing hours of the last session. And that is the Postwar Rehabilitation Council, without politics.

It is not an easy thing to make a clear picture of the future. Try it some time, and you will find out how many ingredients are unknown, how many are mere "probables," and how many totally unpredictable. Yet that, precisely, is the task ahead of those who must plan now for the return of hundreds of thousands of men and women to this Dominion and their assisted re-establishment after the present conflict. Obviously no one government can do it. Equally surely, as a gentleman at Duncan was kind enough to write me, the task will call for a good deal of rehabilitation among ourselves. But, somehow, that must be accomplished, and now is the right time to prepare for it, slowly, surely, and as steadily as may be.

We would be making a grave mistake, however, if we come to regard postwar rehabilitation groups as "Georges," at whom we may throw every and all suggestions without any effort on our part. On the contrary, the problem is so large that it is almost certain that each of us will have to carry a little of it, each in his or her proper place. On that basis nothing is insoluble, and the greatest problem will yield to persistent and intelligent attack, while there is still time. By putting the machinery in motion the Provincial Government has kept faith with the people, and with those who are standing in the place of Canada in many theatres overseas.

WOULD CURTAIL PRICE CONTROL LITERATURE

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, March 23.—An excellent attendance was noted at the regular meeting of the Malahat Board of Trade, held recently in the S.L.A.A. Hall, Shawnigan, with the president, J. G. Morley, presiding. The opinion was expressed that too much literature is being distributed in connection with price control and that unnecessary com- [illegible] should be curtailed.

Several accumulations of scrap metal were reported, and arrangements were made to get in touch with the proper authorities. Complaints had been received of the illegal dumping of tin cans, etc., in the lake, and the warning was sounded that such practices are strictly against the law. Fishing in the lake was reported good.

Captain D. Palin addressed the board on the forming of a reserve army corps in this district, a move which was unanimously endorsed by the board. Arrangements were made to hold the annual meeting next month.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

When we actually commence to feel the pinch of gasoline rationing and lack of new automobile tires there are bound to be many cases of petrol and rubber stealing. Some enterprising merchant could make a nice piece of change by featuring reasonably priced tire locking chains and gasoline tank cap locks . . . We were glad to hear a movement is afoot to secure a fireboat for the harbor. Such a vessel would be invaluable during fires along the waterfront. With characteristic short-sightedness the City Council dismantled and sold its salt water pumping equipment several years ago . . . A scientist at Oklahoma City University recently discovered how to preserve automobile tires. You saturate a small rag with glycerine and vigorously rub the tires. Then while they are still moist you rub them with powdered sulphur. It is claimed that treatments twice a month will prolong the life of the rubber . . . Note from a correspondent, "The B.B.C. and C.B.C. might take a leaf from N.B.C. announcers, who always refer to United States soldiers in the East as valiant, intrepid, gallant, brave or courageous. We should like to hear British soldiers in the armed forces likewise spoken of after all their long endurance and bravery in their various fields of action" . . . Perhaps it will be a sad blow to many members of the armed forces who so frequently patronized the nineteen Japanese cleaners and pressers here when said Orientals cease operations . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, was reluctantly dragged to church last Sunday. He complained so loudly about the sermon at lunch that his better half resolved to leave him at home on future Sundays. While tucking into a treacle roly-poly Willie remarked with a full mouth, "It was most disgusting the way that man on my right snored. Why he even kept me awake."

Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt drydock at any tide, add 26 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of March 24, 1892)

The Show-Board Gone—A few days ago an enterprising billposter secured the right of erecting an advertising board, extending from H. P. Johnson's, on Government Street, to the thoroughfare adjoining in the direction of the bridge. The board had received its first coat of paste, and Patti Rosa was illustrated in her every character. The storm of Thursday night and yesterday morning, however, was no respecter of persons or circumstances, and Patti and her company in their various attitudes were blown to pieces along with the boards on which they were advertised. All along the beach timbers were blown in, and housetops and chimneys of city residences suffered not a little. Though the storm was violent, the damage done locally was not much.

Both Lines Down—Yesterday morning it was ascertained that there was a break in the telegraphic communication between Chemainus and Nanaimo, and men were out all day hunting the gap. It was located during the afternoon.

Guillotined or Electrocuted—A handsome dog which was running a race with a Fort Street car, yesterday morning, missed his footing at the corner of Quadra Street, and the next moment was lying in halves by the side of the tracks. As there was no inquest, it is not known whether the deceased dog died by the guillotine or electrocution.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

FOR MRS. MacARTHUR

It happens that I was in North- [illegible] farmers when the news came of General MacArthur's arrival in Australia, and traveling, during the next twenty-four hours, on Northern New England trains, on which there were occasional Canadians.

The news put everyone in a Christmas mood; there was a feeling of holiday. The telephone operator in the little village near our farm broke the routine of "Number please" to inquire whether it wasn't swell about MacArthur; the farmers drifting into the store noted with pride that they guessed things would begin to move one of these days.

And on the trains Canadians and Americans congratulated each other, Britain, and the United States, without a trace of national jealousy, only in mutual happiness that the war had thrown up a leader in the English-speaking world already isolated in the most remote places.

Now, much has been written about MacArthur's appointment, but there is one point that cannot, I think, be emphasized too much. Why does the whole English-speaking world love MacArthur? They love him because he is an ideal of character. And all their instincts tell them that in the end it is character that will win this war.

For to date MacArthur has no military victory to his credit—except the victory of heroic resistance. Actually, he had to retreat and retreat in the Philippines, finally to take his stand in the Bataan Peninsula and Corregidor.

Yet, in his retreat, as in the Russian retreat, there was never the sense of defeat, and always the conviction of eventual counter-offensive and final victory. And it is interesting that no one in the world has better understood the glory and brilliance of the Russian campaign than MacArthur, who from his remote island sent an historic telegram to the Red Army, characterizing their retreat and offensive as the most remarkable campaign in human history.

The Japanese leader against MacArthur, General Homma, accepted defeat in spite of his victories. He committed suicide. That was even more than Marshal Timoshenko achieved, although there are parallels here, too. General Reichenau is dead—and we don't know quite how. And Von Brauchitsch Timoshenko's main enemy, had to resign, after invading Russia to the very gates of Moscow. Timoshenko forced Hitler to take command of the Russian campaign himself. And, finally, even Hitler has suffered a defeat, because he has had to abdicate and bring back Von Brauchitsch, if the Thursday reports from Berne are correct.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED

Now the Russians certainly haven't won this war, up until now, and no one underestimates the terrible hazards of the Spring. And in the Pacific we have only a faint smell of possible victory. But in and through a few adequate leaders we rediscover ourselves and confidence in ourselves is restored.

Because of great leaders people know that they are a great people. That was Winston Churchill's supreme function in the disastrous Spring of 1940—a function that can never be undone by history. He called England to herself. And that has been MacArthur's greatest contribution to America; he has called America to herself.

As the British people said of Churchill: He is Britain! So the American people say of MacArthur: He is America!

A little thing is so revealing. MacArthur did not evacuate his wife and little son from the Philippines, and he took them with him to Australia. Think what it means. He takes with him his America; he takes with him that which he has the most immediate passion to defend—his personal home. He takes with him his own hostages. I hope the Donovan Committee is pointing out this fact in short-wave broadcasts. Because in that gesture is the whole will to victory.

And what a wife! She is America, too. The MacArthur family home is transplanted to Australia—the certain proof that there is no monkey-business about this fight. Therewith MacArthur puts himself in the same position as every Australian soldier. For home and country. But don't start saying hail MacArthur!' Would that make him sore. Hail America, and the United Nations of the world!

PSYCHOLOGICAL OFFENSIVE

All military offensives begin by a psychological offensive. The legend of invincibility has been a major asset of the Axis in this war. And it has been possible to trace the collapse of the Axis psychological offensive in Hitler's speeches.

The German and the Japanese armies are formidable still—terribly formidable. But Hitler's prime support from the beginning has been confidence in his own theories: That the luxury-loving and decadent democracies would not fight; that Russia was ripe for disintegration and collapse; that the world was a push-over.

But the world is no pushover. Month by month this feeling mounts; the British people become more dogged with every setback; the Russians display a flaming fury of patriotism; the Americans awaken and throw up a military leader in their proudest tradition. Hitler becomes gloomy—and his lack of self-assurance is most clearly indicated in his insistent repetition that he did not want this war at all. Oh, yeah?

Napoleon said, "Politics is destiny"—and Hitler believed him. Walther Rathenau said, "Economics is destiny"—and Hjalmar Schacht believed him. But the ancient Greeks, wiser than either of them, said, "Character is destiny"—and their contemporary descendants believed that, and lost—for the time being.

America has always believed the ancient Greeks. Washington did; Lincoln did; and so does General Douglas MacArthur.

HOME DEFENCE SERVICE

Sir,—D. M. Baillie's letter to the editor in yesterday's Daily Times, on the subject "Defence En Masse," should make every loyal and red-blooded citizen sit up and take notice; analyse themselves, and then realize the urgency for serving in the citizens' home defence programme.

The information obtained from Canadian citizens during national registration by the Dominion Government in August, 1940, regarding occupation, training, qualifications and experience, should be most valuable now in enabling the appointed authority to allot to each man, woman and youth, the home defence task each individual is best fitted for. This available information has been secured at an enormous expense. Why not make use of it?

Like many others, I registered my services on September 3, 1939, with the Voluntary Service Registration Bureau, Ottawa.

In my humble opinion a citizens' home defence service registration bureau is needed for the citizens of Vancouver Island, and I believe if such a bureau were set up, the response would be surprising, and not fall far short of a full 100 per cent.

We may well take a lesson from the parable of "the ten virgins," which so lucidly serves to illustrate the evil of inaction and delay.

CLEAN-UP WEEK

Sir,—A splendid idea Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week for Victoria in April. We will do our part. Will the civic authorities do their part and clean up the deplorable mess of tin cans and other garbage strewn about the beautiful beach along the foot of Government Street?

ARM YOURSELVES!

Sir,—Many of the letters to the editor interest me, particularly of late. Current topics, and mainly preparedness, are of especial interest. On Tuesday, March 17, you had an article as well that was of interest, by H.T.M.

It seems that many of our British Columbia citizens are getting anxious about defence of this Coast. May I say that I think it is time we really went to town and did something about it.

Many people call at my place of business and we talk of various things, chiefly the war these days. These people remember what took place in the Vancouver Postoffice three years ago, how the pickets that were placed on certain scrap for Japan were treated and what they were told. They are fully aware of what they will be voting for or against in the coming plebiscite. Still they are uneasy. They feel that while in several vital interests in the past their country has let them down, they still do not wish to let the country down; nor do they wish to have the Government of the country let them down again. Yet that is just what they are afraid of.

One of our ministers at Ottawa seems of the opinion that the West Coast will be bombed this Summer and complacently states that these will only be nuisance raids. What if those nuisance raids do kill off a few British Columbia people, burn their homes and damage other property or even could burn us practically off this Island? The Japanese, according to him, could never land here. I wonder why not?

Complacency and unpreparedness have cost the Allied nations every setback they have had. Every excuse has been overwhelming superiority of the enemy in men and machines, and surprise. No man when fighting for his life will fight fair, as some term it, so surprise becomes fair in a case of this kind. Those Japanese figure that they are fighting for existence, and will stop at nothing to achieve victory if at all possible. They have already shown that.

There is only one way to prevent surprise attack here and that is to be so damned well ready to meet such an attack that surprise would be nearly impossible. Maybe this letter can show how to get well prepared.

All who read of this plan, sit down and write the editor of their favorite paper about it. Will all those who would endorse such a plan and join such an organization just write to the editor and say so? Will you, Mr. Editor, print at least the number of favorable replies? Or are we still too complacent to make The Colonist add a sheet to the paper just to print our names alone?

People of British Columbia, this could and should be a big thing. A thing bigger and better for winning the war and the peace to follow the war than the plebiscite or the Victory Loan. So I say, and so say many more I know, let us get after this and make the Government supply us with arms and training in the use of those arms. We can supply our own clothes, meals, time for study or training. We could be ready to shoot a Japanese or ten Japanese in fifteen minutes' warning anywhere along our Coast, and that is far more than the militia can do.

How about it, union men? How about it, tradespeople? How about it, big shots? You want protection from the Japanese, too, don't you?

DESERTED ANIMALS

Sir,—By this time I expect your correspondent from Parksville will have heard what the S.P.C.A. is doing re the animals left behind by the Japanese. In spite of the fact that the police have been asked to report on any case where the S.P.C.A. should act it does seem to me that this is a situation in which the public can and should help. Whoever is living in a district from which Japanese have been removed might make it their business to look around the now deserted dwellings; not only that but make inquiries as to any strays either cats or dogs in the neighborhood. This is no time for leaving things to the other fellow. By each of us doing what we can we shall not only help the animals who need it but also the police who will have plenty to do before this business is finished. A little help is worth a great deal of pity.

Organization Wants All Young Children To Be Fingerprinted

Formation of Home Defence Corps and Protection of Waterworks by Troops Are Among Topics Discussed at Meeting

THE children's A.R.P. committee of the United Organizations Security Council of Greater Victoria will meet Municipal School Inspector H. L. Campbell on Thursday to discuss the fingerprinting and registering of children of pre-school age, Mrs. S. W. Raven advised the council at its meeting in the Pemberton Building last night.

Mrs. Raven added that fingerprinting was considered a better means of identification than identity discs. Chairman Fred Manning pointed out it would be necessary to get permission from the responsible authorities before going ahead with this project.

H. Tyrrell, speaking on behalf of the civilian home defence committee, said that it has asked Work Point Barracks for information about the formation of a Home Defence Corps, had received a memorandum, and would have a programme outlined for presentation to the council at its next meeting.

SHOULD GUARD WATERWORKS

J. W. Casey provoked a long discussion when he suggested that the military should be responsible for guarding the reservoirs and waterworks system of Greater Victoria.

Smith's Hill reservoir, he pointed out, would last Greater Victoria only one day if other facilities were knocked out. "We should take a resolution to General Alexander or the Dominion Government so as to put the burden of defence on the militia," Mr. Casey said.

He then suggested that a committee of three draw up a motion and send a resolution to the Minister of National Defence.

"We must bombard the responsible authorities to get action," commented Jack Price, secretary-treasurer of the council. "Mere resolutions are ineffective."

Ernest Harris' suggestion that the United Organizations Security Council present a resolution to the City Council next Monday afternoon, and that delegates from the women's organizations represented appear in strength to press for action, was then approved.

MANY TO ATTEND

As many members as possible will be asked to attend, and their organizations will be requested to write the city backing up the resolution. The council appointed Mr. Price to head the delegation and appoint members to interview the City Council.

Mr. Harris, reporting for the evacuation committee, said that it had been formed to get support for the use of pleasure craft and boats formerly owned by Japanese in carrying out an evacuation of civilians from Vancouver Island should it become necessary.

Harold Husband, regional controller of civilian transport, had informed him that the Government was pushing plans to use such craft for this purpose, Mr. Harris said. Representatives of yacht and racing clubs will meet Mr. Husband to secure further instructions.

Mr. Casey told the meeting that a dealer has contributed lumber for the erection of a model shelter on Pandora Avenue, to be stocked with the articles necessary should a raid occur.

"We assume here," he said, "that we won't be raided until the shelter is built—such delay is the fault of a democracy." He added that, under guidance, the shelter could be erected in three nights, and spokesmen for the Lions, Gyro and Kinsmen Clubs undertook to secure the support of their members in erecting it, members of each club to contribute one night's work.

Mrs. R. Barclay Ross, of the Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service, said she would lend equipment now in the hands of her organization to the proposed shelter, and that, for the first week in which it is on display, members of the C.A.T.S. would act as attendants.

Mrs. W. D. Macdonell outlined the steps which Pullman, Wash., has taken to register its children of pre-school age, and the defence measures now being taken by Tacoma and Port Angeles.

Her American correspondents have written her that there was fear that the Japanese would make a "Pearl Harbor" of Victoria and use British Columbia as a base for an attack on Alaska, Mrs. Macdonell said.

The United Organizations Security Council decided to apply for incorporation under the provisions of the Societies Act.

ward through Sychevka, a midway point on the north-south road between Rzhev and Vyazma.

PARTLY ENCIRCLED

In the south-central sector the dispatches said that Orel was partly encircled with Soviet forces threatening Karachev, midway between Orel and Bryansk.

A stiffening of German resistance was indicated all along the line, but in one sector of the Leningrad front the Russians reported 1,800 Germans were killed and thirty blockhouses and machine-gun nests were destroyed in two days of fighting.

The morning communique, reporting no important change in positions overnight, told of particularly heavy fighting on the Kalinin front, between Moscow and Leningrad and west of the capital.

IMPORTANT PLACE TAKEN

On the northwestern sector, it listed one "important place" and a smaller settlement captured by Red forces, which killed 300 Nazis and captured quantities of booty in two stubborn engagements. Three hundred Germans were declared wiped out in another undisclosed sector and three populated places captured on the central front.

(The Germans claimed their troops were on the offensive along some parts of the front, and that they were successful in repulsing Soviet assaults.)

The slaughter of 12,000 German officers and soldiers on the Kalinin sector alone was reported today by the Russians as the war on the entire front rushed into a faster tempo, and both the Russians and Germans sought advantage for crucial Spring engagements.

A special Soviet announcement said the 12,000 Germans were killed between March 11 and 21, and detailed the capture or destruction of a vast quantity of planes, guns and other war material in the area northwest of Moscow.

AIRACOBRAS TESTED

The Russian Army newspaper, Red Star, said United States-built Airacobra fighter planes would be used in Spring combats with the Germans. These planes have been assembled and tested at a training centre, and Red Star said a few days ago an air regiment arrived at the centre to be equipped with the machines.

Russian reports indicated there had been no substantial change in several days on the front, with the principal actions taking place south of Leningrad, in the Staraya Russa and Kalinin sectors, along the central front, where the Russians are driving against Smolensk, on the southwestern front in the Bryansk area and on the Crimean Peninsula.

COUNTER-ATTACK BROKEN

A dispatch said a major German counter-attack on the southwestern front, in which four German divisions and one Rumanian division participated, had been broken up and the Red Army was pursuing the enemy.

The foe was said to have lost 2,250 men killed in that engagement.

Front-line dispatches said the Germans were moving up reserves from Nazi-occupied areas as far away as the Atlantic coast of France in preparation for the Spring push. Red Star said, however, the Russians "have not slept," and that the German successes of last July "will not be repeated."

Comforts Are Being Sent To England

The Victoria depot of the R.N. War Comforts Committee is now closing case No. 28 for shipment to London for issue to the crews of mine sweepers and other small craft. From recent letters it appears that the comforts are distributed to crews based on the northern ports of the British Islands, for use in the Northern Patrol.

Mrs. Fraser Christie, in charge of the comforts at the Mission to Seamen Institute at Lerwick, on February 5 writes: "Miss Ingleby sent me on here your wonderful consignment of woolies for our sailor heroes and they have been very valuable to us, especially amongst our patrols and merchant seamen who are doing so much for us in this trying time. We have had a terrible Winter, set away out here in the middle of the North Sea, and I feel that you would like to know how much your valuable gifts have been appreciated and have kept many a poor sailor from being frozen.

"Recent reports from London state that the woolies received at the head office in 1941 numbered approximately 55,000, exclusive of overseas parcels. We also received many packages from friends overseas, whose thought for our work we greatly appreciate, and whose gifts are especially helpful now that wool is rationed. Amongst these consignments was one from the British War Organization Fund in Hongkong. Output for Mellor mine-sweeping gloves for 1941 was 4,620 pairs, and demand for them is as great as ever. A naval officer recently wrote: 'The men are delighted with their gloves; they are most beautifully made and indubitably the most practical and most appreciated of comforts. In fact, I am going to ask you for thirty more pairs just as soon as you can send them.' When so many sailors are losing their all by enemy action there is continued demand for socks and jerseys."

SUGAR Facts
1. The law sets a ration of ¾ pound per person per week. This is sufficient for everyone. Additional supplies will be available for home canning and preserving. Sugar prices are under the "Price Ceiling". Hoarding is foolish and unlawful.
2. No home is allowed to have on hand more than two weeks' supply at any time. Retailers are authorized to refuse to sell to anyone they believe to be disobeying the law. Vigorous steps are being taken to punish wilful infractions of the law. The penalties provided are imprisonment for as long as two years and a fine of up to $5,000.
3. Sugar can be saved without hardship by serving simpler desserts, cakes without icings, savoury instead of sweet dishes; by the use of salt, syrup, honey and condensed milk in certain recipes; and by the use of fruits and fruit juices to sweeten puddings.

DESIGNED FOR LARGER FIGURES

By ANNE ADAMS

Pattern 4951

DON'T let those extra pounds keep you from being fashion-slim—let Anne Adams show you the way with pattern 4951. It's cut on simple shirtwaister lines, yet the panel-effect in front is new and narrowing on larger figures. For emphasis you can use a contrasting shade for the collar and yoke-and-panel in front, and the sleeve tabs, too, if you like. Notice how the skirt panel is repeated in the back. Another way to achieve color contrast is to make just the collar and triangular tabs in a different shade, or perhaps edge them with ric-rac to match the optional pockets. The sewing instructor guides you every step of the way—you will find this style so becoming and practical you'll want several versions.

Pattern 4951 is available in women's sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48 and 50. Size 36 takes 4¼ yards 35-inch fabric.

Send 20c in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

CLERIC MAKES PERILOUS TRIP

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Weaver, Former Victorians, Escape Manila Raid

The perils encountered by Rev. J. M. Weaver, former priest of St. Alban's Anglican Church here, during a voyage from Shanghai to Sydney, Australia, are vividly described in a letter which Mrs. Weaver wrote her sister in Winnipeg after arriving at Sydney.

Mrs. Weaver expected to go to England, and Rev. Mr. Weaver was to have taken charge of the missions to seamen in Hongkong, but, because of the war, their ship went to Australia.

Some idea of the trials they underwent during the trip may be gleaned from the following extracts from Mrs. Weaver's letter:

"I hope that you got our cable telling you that we were safe here. I expected that you would be worried about us when you got our letter from Shanghai telling you that Jack (Mr. Weaver) has been transferred to Hongkong.

MANY ABOARD

"Then the Embassy and Consulate wanted us to take care of an evacuation ship from Shanghai to Singapore. Jack was guaranteed return passage to Hongkong by the commander-in-chief of Singapore, as it was the navy really doing the evacuation.

"Over 1,200 people registered, but in the end only 400 went, 168 Indians included. The ship sailed December 3, and got to Hongkong December 6. We left with all our passengers. We were to have disembarked the folk for Australia there, but they had sent all the ships to Singapore. However, as the Japanese started war on Sunday, we had to decide to go elsewhere, and the captain made for Manilla, little thinking how unsafe it was to prove.

ATTACK BEGINS

"We got there safely, and had to remain in the harbor. Next day, about 1:30 or 2 p.m., we were watching twenty-seven planes in beautiful formation over the ship, when suddenly a warning was sounded and we were all told to get between decks and under cover.

"Jack and I got separated. I got as many women and children as I could together, started them singing hymns (really thought it was death this time), and it seemed to help the folk. Then I suggested the Lord's Prayer, and it seemed to help. Then we sang songs, and, believe me, some helped to drown out the bombing.

"After 'all clear,' most of the people wanted to be put ashore, especially the Indians. I can't think why the Japanese did not return.

PASSENGERS ARE DEBARKED

"Next day the American authorities decided all women and children should be put ashore, then later Indians, still later, everybody. I was looking after people, so missed it. The captain told Jack to go and see if he could find the consul for orders.

"Then they told the captain to get his ship out as soon as possible, not wait to unload the baggage of those poor wretched people left to the Red Cross in Manilla. We didn't even wait for the doctor, and all his gear is now here. Only twelve passengers came on.

"We had a most hectic trip really; no charts after the Philippines. The captain had to navigate from a school atlas. Then we got to Thursday Island, and had to wait two days for a pilot.

"Then another American ship, which had been attacked by Japanese and had thrown overboard all papers, had to follow us, and she could do only nine knots, so we limped down nearly to Brisbane, when she left us, and we came on here."

Mother (at tea)—Tommy, your hands are dirty.

Tommy—Yes, Mummy. I didn't wash them so's I'll be ready for gardening directly after tea.

Russian Village Retaken From Nazis

Residents of the village of Argashi are shown hugging Red Army soldiers who drove out the Germans who captured the village last Fall and reoccupied the village during the great Russian counter-offensive. The Red Army has recaptured thousands of such villages, but many of them had been leveled to the ground by the Germans before they retreated. This photo was radioed from Moscow.

CHAPTER LVI

"Greetings!" Stephen said. "All alone?"

Judith tried to smile. It was difficult to pretend that nothing was wrong. "Yes, all alone."

"You look nice and cool." He came up on the porch and sat in the other white wicker chair opposite her. "Cigarette?"

"No, thanks."

He frowned as he glanced at the sky streaked with vivid twilight colors.

"You know, it's too bad we don't have daylight saving here."

She smiled. "You mean it would give you time to play a round of golf before dark."

He grinned. "Stop it . . . Are we doing anything tonight? Movie or something?"

"Let's just go for a ride."

A ride through the warm Summer night, her hair blowing back from her cool face, her mouth tight while Stephen told her of an amusing incident at the office that day. She thought, "Please don't let him say anything about Quebec until I tell him."

"Couldn't we stop somewhere, Stephen?" She had never suggested it before.

"Anything you say."

He turned the car from the highway to a dark side road and brought it to a stop on a bank overlooking a quiet river.

All the sounds of a Summer night were in the air. Below small waves rippled to the white beach, and down the beach the lights from Summer bungalows winked a welcome. On the river a brightly-illuminated excursion steamer sailed slowly.

For a few minutes they sat there seeing the lights and hearing the noises of the night. Then Stephen turned his head and looked at Judith and she turned hers and looked at him. In his look were anxiety and waiting; in hers guilt and shame.

"Stephen, I'm not going on Saturday. That is, I'm—I'm going to meet you in Quebec."

His eyes narrowed and he frowned. "You're not going? Why not?"

"I've got to be in New York for a few days. I——"

"You mean you're going back to New York—to look for a job?" Before she could explain he turned his head away quickly and looked down the river. One hand clenched the steering wheel. "I thought you'd do that sooner or later. That—that's just what I thought you'd do. I knew I didn't have a chance . . . I've been crazy about you from the very beginning. I never was about any other girl. I never could just play around. It seemed such a waste of time. Besides, I have what is probably a screwy idea that I wanted to keep myself for the girl I married . . . There was certain things a girl had to be. You were all of those things. You were—the best.

"Sounds sort of dumb talking about it now. I'm not good at this romantic stuff. I feel a lot of things I can't say. I wanted to tell you all this before, but I suppose I was afraid of being turned down cold and that would finish our seeing each other . . . It hasn't been easy being with you a lot and not making love to you. I'm not. But, never mind. I won't go into that.

"I've been around with other girls, sure, but they were only a blind. I didn't want you to know how crazy I was about you. I stayed in Clinton because of you. I've worked with you in my mind." He chuckled, but it was a bitter chuckle directed to himself. "I knew you could never love a failure, and that if a man didn't make good, you'd think he didn't have brains and ability and you couldn't love or live with a man who didn't have both."

"Stephen, I didn't——" This hurt, this hurt terribly.

"You didn't encourage me. Is that what you mean? No, you didn't. So why should I be sore at you? I'm not. I should have known that sooner or later you'd go back to New York and—maybe to the man who gave you that bracelet." He chuckled again, the same bitter chuckle.

"I kept hoping that sometime I'd see you without it. But you still wear it. You're wearing it now.

"Do you remember the day Dick was buried? I looked at you and—and it was as if you were—my wife. You see, I've been taught to have the utmost reverence for that word 'wife'." He took a deep breath. "The joke is on me, I suppose, but I don't in the least want to start laughing."

It was as though he were offering his heart, an honest heart with no adornments, no lies, no secrets . . . Judith thought, "I am going back to New York—to stay. I can't tell him about Max now . . . not after what he has said to me. I can't bring Max into this. He doesn't belong."

Stephen said, "You don't have to meet us in Quebec, Judith. I'm not going. Harriet and Larry and Katherine and Ralph will have fun. I'll go up to Lake George. There's a gang going up."

Mary Anderson's "gang."

Little Stories for Bedtime

Reddy Fox Gets a Scare

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Peter Rabbit looked up at the silvery moon and laughed aloud. Then he kicked up his heels and laughed again as he started out across the Green Meadows toward Farmer Brown's garden. You see, Reddy Fox had found a new planting of tender young cabbage there, and had invited Peter to visit it with him at sun-up the next morning.

Now, Peter was suspicious, very suspicious indeed of Reddy Fox. So, as it was a beautiful night for a walk, he thought he would just run over to Farmer Brown's garden and see if he could find that bed of newly-planted cabbage.

So Peter hopped and skipped across the Green Meadows, singing as he went:

Hold, ol' Miss Moon, hold up your light!
Show the way! Show the way!
The little stars are shining bright,
And night folks are out to play.

When Peter reached Farmer Brown's garden he had no trouble in finding the new planting of cabbage. It was tender. It was good. My, how good it was! Peter started in to fill his little round stomach. He ate and ate and ate. By and by, just when he thought he couldn't eat another mouthful, he happened to look over to a patch of moonlight. For just a minute Peter's heart stopped beating. There was Reddy Fox coming straight over to the new cabbage bed!

Peter Rabbit didn't know what to do. Reddy Fox didn't see him yet, but he would in a minute or two, unless Peter could hide. He was too far from the dear Old Brier Patch to run there. Peter looked this way and looked that way. Ha! There lay Farmer Brown's boy's old straw hat, where he had left it when the supper horn blew. Peter crawled under it. It covered him completely.

Peter peeped out from under one edge. He saw Reddy Fox standing in the moonlight, looking at the bed of newly set cabbage. Reddy was smiling as if his thoughts were very pleasant. Peter shivered. He could just guess what Reddy was thinking. Reddy had invited Peter to come with him to this very place at sun-up the next morning, and Peter suspected that Reddy was even now thinking how he would gobble up Peter when once he got him away from the safety of the Old Brier Patch.

It looked for all the world as if the hat was alive

The thought made Peter so indignant that he forgot that he was hiding, and he sat up on his hind legs. Of course, he lifted the straw hat with him. Then he remembered and sat down again in a hurry. Of course, the straw hat went down quite as quickly.

Presently Peter peeped out. Reddy Fox was staring and staring at the old straw hat and he wasn't smiling now. He actually looked frightened. It gave Peter an idea. He made three long hops toward Reddy Fox, all the time keeping the old straw hat over him. Of course, the hat went along with him, and because it covered Peter all up, it looked for all the world as if the hat was alive.

Reddy Fox gave one more long look at the strange thing coming toward him through the cabbage bed and then he started for home as fast as he could go, his tail between his legs.

Peter Rabbit just lay down right where he was and laughed and laughed. And it almost seemed as if the old straw hat laughed too.

The Danger of Coughs Among the Children

In young children a cold or cough is not a thing to be disregarded, as it is often of a grave matter, and unless attended to immediately may, eventually, cause serious trouble.

On the first sign of a cough or cold the mother will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help get rid of the trouble.

Its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm, and stimulating the bronchial organs is such that the cough may be checked before anything of a serious nature sets in.

According to Culbertson

Although opening bids of three, four, and five are loosely grouped as pre-emptive, or shut-out, bids I must point out that there is a vast difference between, let us say, an opening three diamond bid and an opening four spade bid. Obviously, the former is not nearly as "shut-out" in character, since three hearts, three spades, or three no trump still may be bid over it or in response to it. A four spade bid, on the other hand, requires that any overcall or response be made at the five level, the only exception being four no trump, which is an extremely unwieldly bid as a player's first call. Yet both the three diamond bid and the four spade bid have their purpose and function. Today's hand illustrates the virtue of a three bid, particularly in a minor suit, when properly used.

The bidding:

North's three diamond bid speaks for itself. North is ready to deliver seven solid tricks to either a diamond or a no trump contract (assuming, in the latter case, of course, that South would not bid no trump without a diamond in his hand).

As it happened in this particular case, the three diamond bid and three no trump response worked beautifully. West opened the heart queen, East winning with the ace. Now East was in a terrible spot. He could tell there was virtually no hope in a heart return, since declarer was marked with the heart king, but he figuratively had to toss a coin between a spade and a club shift. His own holdings in those suits were almost identical, and dummy had a worthless doubleton in each. A spade return would have given the defenders four tricks, but surely there could be no blame attached to East for guessing to return a low club. Declarer hurriedly put up the ace, ran his seven diamond tricks, and cashed the heart king for the fulfilling trick.

Concert Party Is Much Applauded

The Y.M.C.A. Red Triangle concert party was given an enthusiastic reception recently, when it presented a fast-moving and varied programme for the Victoria Rifle Company at Colwood camp.

The chorus, consisting of Catherine Craig, Eileen Brown, Elaine Besanta, Barbara Dawson, Catherine Dennison, Doreen Radcliff, John Bray, Jay Pogson, Alec Hall, Frank Paulding, Harry Brown, Bill Inglis and Jim Oakman, sang numbers from such well-known shows as "The Desert Song," "Show Boat" and "Maytime," as well as a group of spirituals and several novelty songs.

A humorous skit, "Blackout," enacted by Catherine Craig and Jay Pogson, drew cheers from the audience, and Vanda Hudson and Jay Pogson, as Mr. and Mrs. Ramsbottom, were well received.

Toleta Williams and Agnes Richards, pupils of Wynne Shaw, gave two spirited gypsy dances, and nine-year-old Raymond Clarke was recalled several times to give encores on his piano accordion.

Barbara Dawson acted as accompanist for the sing-song, while Helen Ockenden and Mrs. Sparks accompanied the singers and dancers.

Norval Peterson was master of ceremonies for the show.

The group was later entertained in the officers' mess, where at special request, several of the programme numbers were repeated.

Trans-Canada Air Lines Business Up During Past Year

Report Tabled in House of Commons Shows Increase in Both Revenue and Expenditure —Surplus for Year Is $302,437

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Heavy increase in the passenger, mail and express business of Trans-Canada Air Lines was shown in the 1941 annual report tabled in the House of Commons today by Munitions Minister Howe.

Surplus for the year, after payment of operating expenses, income charges and interest, was $302,437, which was $236,836 less than the $539,263 surplus of 1940.

The increase in operating revenue was $1,215,411, and the increase in operating expenses was $1,450,202. Approximately half the increase in expenses was due to expansion of services and war conditions, increasing labor and material costs, made up the balance.

Operations in 1941 were marked by continued development and growth of business, extension of services to meet the growing demand for air transport, and increased utilization of the personnel and plant facilities to serve the war effort, said H. J. Symington, president of T.C.A., in the report.

The number of passengers carried in 1941 increased 60 per cent, air mail increased 50 per cent, and air express increased 64 per cent compared with 1940. Mail loads now approximate 5,000 pounds daily. This represents about 250,000 air mail letters daily on the trans-continental night trips the heavy mail load occasionally necessitated some passenger accommodation being withheld from sale.

NEW SERVICES

The trans-continental service was extended from Moncton to Halifax, a daily trip was added to the Toronto-Montreal service and a new service was inaugurated between Toronto and New York. The operation of the Vancouver-Seattle service was discontinued.

The shops and facilities at Winnipeg and Toronto were expanded to undertake additional repair and overhaul work on military aircraft. Maintenance and overhaul of aircraft used in the Atlantic return ferry service was undertaken at Montreal and this co-operation with British Overseas Airways Corporation will be extended to Newfoundland.

The company has undertaken on a considerable scale the repair and overhaul of military aircraft, including engines, propellers and instruments. The company's shops are on a three-shift basis and full use is being made of all facilities.

Operating revenues totaled $5,807,794, an increase of $1,215,411 over the preceding year, which, the report stated, indicates, a substantial growth in the earning power of the company. Passenger revenues increased $774,211; mail revenues increased $225,758; express and miscellaneous revenues increased $215,442. Effective April 1, 1941, the rate for the carriage of air mail was reduced from 60 cents to 45 cents a mile.

Operating expenses totaled $5,300,136, an increase of $1,450,202 over the preceding year. Approximately one half of the increase was accounted for by expansion of services, the remainder represented increased labor and material costs due to war conditions.

At December 31, T.C.A. was flying 18,764 miles daily, 24 per cent more than in 1940. It operated over 4,024 miles of airline routes, an increase of 10 per cent. A total of 7,274,815 miles was flown by the company's aircraft during the year. Revenue passengers numbered 85,154 in 1941, an increase of 31,974. During the year 173,192 pounds of air express were carried.

FLIGHT EQUIPMENT

The flight equipment of the company now consists of twelve Lockheed twin-engined 14H aircraft, and six Lockheed Lodestar twin-engined aircraft.

The report says the transport department continued a programme of improvement to airway aids and is undertaking establishment of regional traffic control zones to expedite movement of all air traffic.

Transportation difficulties and unseasonable weather combined to delay the completion of airports and other facilities on the airway being constructed by the Canadian Government for military and commercial aviation between Edmonton and Whitehorse, Yukon. The airway will be completed and suitable for main line operation in the Autumn of 1942 and the report stated that Trans-Canada will then extend its services to that territory, providing a direct main line service from the United States and Canada to Alaska.

Personnel of the lines at December 31, 1941, numbered 1,123, an increase of 334 over December 31, 1940.

Expenditures on property and equipment in 1941 totaled $765,666 and equipment retirements amounted to $513,460. The reserve for depreciation increased by $546,212 now stands at $1,878,366 and the self insurance reserve, increased by $85,345 now is $292,172, the report said.

AWARDED MEDAL FOR GALLANTRY

Canadian Flyer Made Daring Low-Level Attack on Fleeing Nazi Ships

LONDON, March 23 (CP)—Flight Sgt. J. W. Creedon, South Paris, Ont., pilot of a Hudson aircraft of an R.C.A.F. Coastal Command squadron which attacked the German battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau off the Netherlands coast after the battle in the English Channel last month, has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Medal for a daring low-level attack on a destroyer escorting the fleeing ships, it was announced today.

Creedon and two British members of his crew, Sgt. C. Everett and Sgt. George Hancox, who also won the D.F.M., were named in a new list of nine awards arising from the gallant attempt to halt the flight of the battleships from their shelter at Brest. The "demon squadron" to which they belong is No. 407.

Squadron Leader William H. Cliff, commander of No. 42 Squadron, R.A.F., who was awarded the Distinguished Service Order, led his "death squadron" of Beaufort torpedo-bombers in a formation attack which, it is believed, resulted in at least two hits on one of the big ships. The Distinguished Flying Cross was awarded two other members of Cliff's squadron and three members of No. 217 Squadron, R.A.F.

AT CLOSE RANGE

"In the face of harassing fire from screening destroyers, the attack was pressed home with the utmost determination at very close range," the citation said. "Although it has not been possible to assess the damage inflicted owing to extremely poor visibility, it is believed that several hits were obtained."

Describing Creedon's courageous attack, the announcement said he descended through cloud at 400 feet and sighted the German destroyer directly below. Diving through fierce flak to 200 feet, the twenty-year-old Canadian released his bombs, which straddled the enemy warship.

As he turned away to climb into cloud, his Hudson was attacked by a German Junkers 88. Everett, the rear gunner, opened fire with his turret guns and the enemy aircraft broke off the engagement.

Three Beauforts and two Hudsons were lost during the engagement.

Expects Yards to Be Much Busier In Near Future

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP) — Production of British Columbia shipyards, which have not been operating at capacity, will be stepped up, Labor Minister Mitchell said today on his return from a hurried trip to the Pacific Coast.

Problems encountered in moving Japanese from the restricted coastal area are being overcome and satisfactory progress is being made, he said.

"The shipyards were one of the main reasons for our trip," Mr. Mitchell explained. "We discussed the whole situation and expect they will be much busier from now on."

The Labor Minister returned to Ottawa during the week-end.

RESCUED BY FLYING BOAT

Survivors of Freighter Ruth Alexander Tell of Hair-Raising Adventures

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—Snatched from death at sea by a huge Netherlands flying boat after a Japanese bomber sent their ship to the bottom of the Celebes Sea, twenty survivors of the American freighter, Ruth Alexander, have arrived here after a series of hair-raising adventures.

"It was nothing to sneeze at," said Pantryman Robert Marshall as the group debarked from a United Nations vessel yesterday— and his colleagues agreed.

For eighteen days, as their ship lay at pierside in Manila, they were under direct fire of Japanese bombers; for an additional four days after they had fled to Corregidor they were the target of bombers, and two days out in a mad dash for home they finally got it.

Three times the big Japanese bomber circled them, First Officer Joseph D. Cox, of Healdsburg, Cal., said, the first time merely inspecting them, the second time bombing them but missing, and the third time bombing and not missing.

Only the second cook was killed by the blast, and twenty-eight other survivors of the original crew of forty-nine already have reached San Francisco on another ship.

Tossing about in lifeboats for five hours after the bombing, the crew of the Ruth Alexander thought the end had come when they saw a big plane nearing them. In fear it was an enemy craft come to machine-gun them, all but three wounded sailors leaped into the sea.

But although the plane was a Dornier, made in Germany, it was part of the Netherlands navy, and it picked up the lucky mariners and took them to Borneo, whence they caught a ship home.

LONDON (CP)—Because the Government has turned down representations asking for a concession under the clothes rationing order the Boy Scouts' Association may suspend manufacture of uniforms for the duration.

Yacht Moonlight Maid Chartered For War Service

VANCOUVER, March 23 (CP). — The noted Canadian yacht Moonlight Maid is going back into war service. It has been chartered from Capt. Paul Armour, of Vancouver and Prince Rupert, for use on the Pacific Coast.

The yacht has had a colorful career as a former warship and one-time rum runner. Captain Armour recently converted it into a powerful towboat.

Built at Philadelphia in 1893 for a New York millionaire, the yacht was commandeered by the United States Government as a gunboat in the Spanish-American War and saw action in the Battle of Manila. After that she became a yacht again only to see service in the first Great War when the Canadian Government bought her for use in the Atlantic patrol service as H.M.C.S. Stadacona. Later she was placed in the liquor trade, carrying cargoes from England to the Mexican coast, where it was loaded aboard small craft.

SILHOUETTED IN MOONLIGHT

Japanese Aircraft Carrier Is Crippled by American Submarine in Lombok Strait

CHICAGO, March 23 (AP)—An American submarine, commanded by Lieut.-Cmdr. Richard George Voge, recently torpedoed a Japanese aircraft carrier silhouetted in the moonlight, Correspondent George Weller reported today in a copyrighted Chicago Daily News dispatch from "an American naval base, somewhere in Australia."

"A carrier in the moonlight is what submarine officers dream about," Weller wrote. He reported that Cmdr. Voge himself launched the torpedoes after Lieut. V. Andre Sisler sighted the carrier.

"A few hours before the submarine had attacked a Japanese destroyer and missed," Weller's dispatch said. "After that, it was bombed by two seaplanes. Voge's position was dangerous. His batteries were low and it was necessary to keep moving because the tremendous depth made it impossible to rest upon the bottom."

The story said the Japanese evidently were trying to slip the carrier through Lombok Strait into the Indian Ocean.

Weller quoted Voge as saying that after he launched the torpedoes he saw "a tremendous flame shooting up along the carrier body. It was reddish yellow and at least 150 feet high."

Weller said "the navy does not claim to have sunk the carrier, but it is certain that it was crippled."

CREW MEMBERS SAVED

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP)—A crew of twenty-three men and four officers, who spent eleven days on the ocean in two rickety lifeboats after an enemy sub torpedoed their ship, arrived in Brooklyn on Saturday safe, well fed and, as one weary seaman said: "Happy as hell."

They were survivors of a United Nations merchant vessel—shelled, machine-gunned and sent to the bottom on the night of March 5 off the Atlantic Coast. All crew members were picked up by a large general cargo ship eleven days later.

PROMOTIONS ANNOUNCED

MONTREAL, March 23 (CP). — Cmdr. Paul W. Earl, officer commanding the land training stations H.M.C.S. Montreal and Cartier, has been appointed assistant director of reserve divisions at Naval Headquarters in Ottawa, it was announced here today. He will be associated with Capt. E. R. Brock, director of the branch.

Commander Earl will be succeeded here by Lieut. Mackenzie R. Campbell, executive officer, who has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant-commander. The appointments are effective April 1.

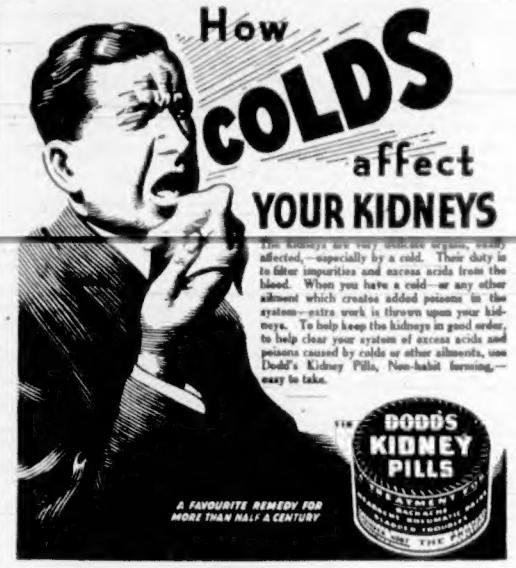
COST OF PATROL BOATS

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—Total cost of fisheries patrols on the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts in 1941 was $222,336, said a reply tabled in the House of Commons today to a question asked by Conservative House Leader Hanson.

On the Atlantic Coast twenty-three boats were employed at a cost of $65,165 and on the Pacific Coast ninety-six boats at a cost of $157,171.

LONDON (CP)—Alan King, sixteen, known as the "Little Champion" at Islington, London suburb, because of his complete disregard for danger during raids, has been awarded the Scout's Silver Medal.

How COLDS affect YOUR KIDNEYS



The Kidneys are very delicate organs, easily affected,—especially by a cold. Their duty is to filter impurities and excess acids from the blood. When you have a cold—or any other ailment which creates added poisons in the system—extra work is thrown upon your kidneys. To help keep the kidneys in good order, to help clear your system of excess acids and poisons caused by colds or other ailments, use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Non-habit forming,—easy to take.

IT'S NOT WORTH A NICKEL

if it comes too late!

Plans for war production on this continent are stupendous. By 1945 the output of planes, tanks and munitions will become a deluge.

If it's not too late!

Canadian plants are producing now. They're doing their best to plug holes in allied defences. Canadian war machines and supplies have been streaming across to Britain, Russia, China, North Africa. It's up to Canadians to make their plants and factories produce more—and more—and more. Every day the supply must increase.

If the enemy were just fifty miles away, could you do more than you are doing now? If you could already hear the rumble of enemy guns, would you work longer, harder, more intensely?

Out there on the battlefront brave lads cry out, "For God's sake give us planes and tanks and guns." Don't let it be said that they came too late, because you failed to give your best.

BRAVE MEN SHALL NOT DIE BECAUSE I FALTERED

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PHOTOGRAPHIC PARTIES

For a new kind of party, conduct a photographic scavenger hunt. It's lots of fun—winter or summer.

HAVE you ever heard of photographic parties? The chances are you have. But have you ever given one? It's a guaranteed method of having a good time.

How can you give a snapshot party? Well, let's take the case of the photographic scavenger hunt. First, I'd suggest that you invite all your camera-owning friends to meet at your house sometime in the afternoon—say at 2:30 on Saturday. Then it's up to you to prepare several general assignments for everybody to work on—for the idea of a scavenger hunt is to give people picture-making assignments, send them out to fill them, and then fix a time limit by which all pictures must be handed in.

For instance, one of your general assignments might be: "Illustrate the phrase, 'a bad egg'." That would leave quite a bit of leeway in interpretation. One participant might choose to photograph a tough-looking, gangster-type model. Another player might show a person looking at a broken hen's egg and holding his nose. And somebody else, by setting up a still-life study, could create a tough-looking little man out of a hard-boiled egg by the use of a few props and a paint brush.

Or another assignment might be to picture a young goat, as above. Just use your ingenuity and you won't have any difficulty getting a long list of suggestions, but hold yourself down to three or four assignments. And, whatever you decide upon, place a deadline on the picture-making—a time by which everybody must have their prints in if they are to compete for the prizes. If you wish you can set that time for later that evening, or you can arrange a second party for the print judging later in the week.

As for judging the prints, the best idea is to let everybody vote and decide the winners by popular acclaim. You can give small photographic merchandise prizes for the best picture of the day, another for the first man back with all of his prints, and a third for the most original work.—John van Guilder.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Modern Pharmacy or Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally, is a small, easy to take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended, and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money. (Advt.)

What Today Means

"ARIES"

If March 24 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m.; from 1:15 to 3:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 a.m.; from 5:15 to 7:15 p.m. and 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

You should be able to use your imagination advantageously on March 24 if, of course, you keep it within the realm of practicability and do not let it soar on the wings of fantastic dreams. Deal with facts, not theories, on this date if you wish to avoid making mistakes. March 24 will be a good day on which to remember that "there is many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," especially if you fail to keep your mind on what you are saying or doing while you are in the midst of strangers. Unless you are extremely cautious in handling money on this day you may become convinced that it really has wings. Good intentions will have to be put into effect immediately, for procrastination will cause many of them to die by the wayside. Married, engaged and courting couples all will have to be constantly on their guard against the green-eyed monster, which may go on a rampage on the slightest pretext.

If you are a woman and March 24 is your birthday, your conscientious efforts will be, in all likelihood, well rewarded, provided you are patient. Make it a rule never to ask embarrassing questions or a needless number of them, if you wish to be popular. As a restaurant operator, news reporter, fiction writer, personal director, interior decorator, sales representative, musician, artist, singer, or in scientific research work, you may command favorable widespread publicity and remuneration commensurate with your accomplishments. Your selection of a life partner ought to prove to be fortunate and happy.

The child born on March 24 will, in all probability, at an early age give evidence of possessing an adventurous spirit and a mind of his own. His independence may enable this youngster to win the regard and respect of his playmates and be looked upon by them as a leader in whom they can repose great confidence. These recognized characteristics may react most favorable in the advancement of this child's future interests.

If you are a man, and March 24 is your natal day, a solitary existence usually is a miserable one, so always seek to maintain a circle of friends and make it a point to make time for social activities. Marriage may prove to be your best preventive for loneliness. As a diplomat, clergyman, poet, author, naval officer, soldier, aviator, engineer, geologist, physician, lawyer, salesman, manufacturer or industrialist you are apt to find yourself closely allied with fame and fortune.

Stocks Develop Rising Tendency On Wall Street

NEW YORK, March 23 (AP).—The stock market developed moderate rising tendencies today as disturbing news, for the most part, was lacking.

The direction was slightly upward at the start, but dealings were sluggish and top gains of fractions to 2 points were reduced at the close.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks finished with a net advance of .2 of a point at 34.9. Transfers totaled 281,410 and compared with 276,870 Friday.

International Telephone stock and bonds went into new high ground for the year on reports the Federal Administration was considering the financing of purchases of communications companies in Latin-America either through the governments involved or private concerns such as I.T. & T.

Ending with modest advances were U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, American Commercial Alcohol, Western Union, Homestake, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, American Can, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical and U.S. Gypsum.

A share in arrears were N.Y. Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Philip Morris, Du Pont and Great Northern.

THE X-RAY AND GASTROSCOPE GIVE DOUBLE PROTECTION IN STOMACH ULCER AND CANCER

Before the discovery of the X-ray, it was difficult for the physician to tell whether or not the symptoms were due to ulcer, cancer, or gastritis—inflammation of the lining of the stomach. By means of test meals, showing presence of large or small amounts or even absence of hydrochloric acid in the stomach contents, he was often able to tell just which condition was present. If he was in doubt, often the abdomen was opened and stomach lining examined. This is called an "exploratory" operation as it is an attempt to explore or find what is wrong.

However, when the X-ray was discovered and it was possible to see whether the lining of the stomach was smooth or had slight depressions or other deformities, the presence of ulcer or of cancer could be told in most cases. When the physician and surgeon were in doubt, an exploratory operation was made, but this was not found to be necessary very often.

However, while the use of the X-ray in locating ulcer and cancer was a great step forward it was found that a few cases when the X-ray pointed to cancer, when the exploratory operation was performed, no cancer was found. And in some cases also where X-ray apparently showed no cancer present, the patient really had cancer and this was sometimes discovered too late to save his life.

Fortunately, the new instrument, the gastroscope, which enables the physician

ASK BOARD TO CLARIFY RULES

Status of Staff When on A.R.P. Work Discussed By Council

Oak Bay Municipal Council last night referred to its solicitors, the engineer and municipal clerk a communication from the Workmen's Compensation Board indicating that municipal employees come within the scope of the Workmen's Compensation Act when doing A.R.P. work as part of their regular duties.

The group named will ask the board to clarify the points raised in the communication, received after Municipal Engineer A. S. G. Musgrave had sent it a telegram regarding the status of permanent employees regularly covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act.

COVERED ORDINARILY

"In ordinary hours," pointed out Municipal Clerk R. F. Blandy, "the employees are covered. However, they have turned out twice in the evenings on the general public's behalf, and they might be construed as volunteers, and not be covered."

Mr. Musgrave pointed out that all Oak Bay's employees are registered as air raid wardens.

"Would it not be well to withdraw these registrations?" he asked. "Further clarification is needed. If our staff is considered as employees only, its position is strengthened."

"It would be well to have that clearly defined," commented Reeve W. L. Woodhouse as the measure was referred to the committee named.

ACCEPT OFFER

The council accepted an offer by the Department of National Defence to contribute $400 to improve Finnerty Road and Cedar Hill Cross-road. The City of Victoria, which asked council for a grant of $50 towards the maintenance of Gonzales Beach, will be notified that this amount is already provided for in the estimates.

Councillors received and filed a letter from the Corporation of Victoria asking Oak Bay to endorse its resolution covering the oil-drilling operations now in progress at Commotion Creek.

Reeve Woodhouse, referring to a summary of A.R.P. regulations drawn up by the Federal Government and forwarded to Oak Bay council by the civilian protection branch of British Columbia Police, remarked that each branch of the municipality's A.R.P. service had been asked to submit a report of its personnel requirements.

NOTIFIED OF JUDGMENT

A letter from the Provincial Public Utilities Commission, advising the council that it had set a water rate totaling 7.31 cents per thousand gallons as that which Oak Bay must pay Victoria for water supplied it, was referred to the estimates committee, one councillor remarking: "It's final, I hope."

F. J. Blackett will be notified that the price of the Foul Bay Road lot about which he asked by letter is $300, plus the proportion of this year's taxes payable.

Council left in the hands of the engineer and lands committee, with power to act, Mrs. M. D. Tillyer's request for the prices asked for two lots on Monterey Avenue.

"We are not going to water the boulevards as much as in former years because of the difficulty of getting additional hose," remarked Reeve Woodhouse as the council accepted R. Rendle's offer of $30 for the cut grass on Uplands boulevard.

"It will be slim pickings for the cows," commented a councillor. "Mr. Rendle will have to take pot luck on what he gets."

SOCCER FINAL SET TOMORROW

Esquimalt and Wests Meet At Royal Athletic Park—Sunday's Cup Results

Bring on the Wests! That's the cry in the Esquimalt football camp today following their 4-1 victory over the highly-favored V.M.D. eleven in the semi-final round of the McGavin Cup series.

Dockers surprised a lot of soccer followers with their decisive victory over the shipyard workers in the match at Bullen Park, and already a number of their supporters are picking them to upset the green-shirts in tomorrow's cup final.

Marking the inauguration of twilight, midweek football here this season, the Wests-Esquimalt encounter is probably the forerunner to more Wednesday evening matches. The kick-off is set for 8:15 o'clock, with Danny Glancy as referee.

Mayor Andrew McGavin, donor of the trophy bearing his name, will present the silverware to the captain of the winning side immediately following the match.

Setting up a 2-0 lead in the first half, and adding two more markers in the final stanza, Esquimalt footballers were just a little too good for V.M.D. The shipyard workers, however, averted a shutout by registering their only tally early in the last half.

DOCKERS OPEN SCORING

Dockers moved ahead 1-0 well on in the opening half when Joe Robbins sagged the net behind Norm Stewardson, and then established their 2-0 advantage when Duncan tallied on a breakaway. V.M.D. were all around the Esquimalt goal but failed to score in this half.

Shipyard workers went on the attack soon after the change-over and it was not long before they sliced the lead to a lone marker. Alan Reside beat the Esquimalt goalie with a long shot and "Jock" McColl, V.M.D. manager, felt a little happier. But just to spoil the afternoon for the boss of the shipyard eleven, Gar Robbins came through with a pair of markers for Esquimalt.

Playing at Royal Athletic Park, United Services kept their winning streak in the Phoenix Cup intact by blanking Victoria West, 3-0, for their third straight triumph.

Render Decision Soon on Appeal

Judgment on the Hudson's Bay Company's appeal from Oak Bay Municipality's $82,110 assessment on the Uplands golf course will be delivered by Thursday, statutory time limit to make a successful appeal effective this year, Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson said yesterday in Supreme Court Chambers. The appeal will continue this afternoon.

R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, testified yesterday that, with Oak Bay nearing the saturation point as far as good residential property was concerned, future sale of home sites would be largely restricted to Hudson's Bay Company land in the municipality, including the possible subdivision of the golf club.

ICE SQUADS PLAY TO TIE

Calgary and Lethbridge Battle to 2-2 Deadlock After Overtime

CALGARY, March 23 (CP).—It will take a sixth game to decide the championship of the A.B.C. Senior Amateur Hockey League and the right to represent Alberta in the 1942 Allan Cup play-downs.

Calgary Stampeders and Lethbridge Maple Leafs fought through ninety minutes of hockey here tonight and left the ice with the score tied at 2-2 and the best-of-five series all even at two victories apiece and one drawn battle.

A sell-out crowd of more than 5,000 fans saw the teams go scoreless in regulation time and also in the first overtime period. The count went to 2-2 in the second extra session, and the clubs each scored again in the additional period. Leafs came from behind on both occasions to tie the count.

FLYERS TRIUMPH

OTTAWA, March 23 (CP).—A brilliant second-period goal by Centre Milt Schmidt gave Royal Canadian Air Force Flyers the lift they needed tonight and enabled the Ottawa and district champions to subdue Hamilton Majors, 3-1, in the first game of an Eastern Canada Allan Cup semi-final series before 6,834 fans.

Schmidt's goal, scored on a breakaway, smashed down a stubborn blockade thrown up in the Hamilton nets by twenty-one-year-old Jack Eley from Brandon, Man., and snapped a 1-1 tie which had lasted midway through the first period.

Buddy Hellyer tipped in a pass from Al Campbell in the third period to clinch the game for Flyers.

Majors, checking tenaciously but lacking offensive strength, suffered a costly blow with loss of Stan Robertson. The twenty-three-year-old left wing crashed into a goal post in the first period after being dumped by Walt Murray of Flyers.

OTHER RESULTS

Other results follow:

Eastern Junior Semi-Finals—Ottawa St. Patricks 4, Oshawa 6. (First of best-of-five series.)

Eastern Canada Allan Cup Series (final)—Hamilton Majors 1, Ottawa R.C.A.F. 3. (Ottawa leads best-of-five series, 1-0.)

Quebec Junior Finals—Montreal Royal 5, Clearpoint Maple Leafs 1. (Montreal wins best-of-three series, 2-0.)

Manitoba Junior Final—Portage la Prairie 15, St. Boniface Athletics 3. (Portage la Prairie wins best-of-three series, 2-0.)

O.H.A. Intermediate "B" Eliminations—Paris 8, Georgetown 5. (Paris wins two-game, total-goal round, 18-9.)

A.B.C. Senior Final—Lethbridge 2, Calgary 2 (overtime tie). (Three overtime periods. Best of five series tied at two wins apiece, one tie game.)

MEDWICK SLATED TO LEAVE DODGERS

LAKELAND, Fla., March 23 (AP).—Brooklyn Dodgers defeated Detroit Tigers, 7-2, in an exhibition game today amid rumors that the National League champions would send Outfielder Joe Medwick to Detroit in exchange for holdout Pitcher Louis (Bobo) Newsom.

Newsom, mainstay of the Detroit staff in 1940 but winner of only twelve games while losing twenty last year, has refused to sign a contract because of a salary slash. Medwick virtually has lost his outfield berth to Augie Galan, outfielder with Chicago Cubs last season.

Douglas Tire, senior boxla team, will meet this evening at the home of Gus Munro, 1238 Vista Heights, at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to attend.
